LOOK AT SURFACES WITH FRESH EYES REDISCOVER INTERIOR DECORATIONS AS A PHILOSOPHY.

Decorations are the predominant feature which characterises ambiances and gives it a brand new dressing; a tool for style expression and defining the matter. Without decoration surfaces remain bare, they are just an empty, hollow space crying out for an identity.

This identity is created thanks to a collaboration between teams of artists, graphic designers and stylists working in a continuous exchange of ideas and influences which stem from every realm of our experience: fashion, art, design, architecture, urban buildings, natural materials, tissues etc.

WOOD

A close-up photograph of a light-colored wooden floor with a vertical grain. Several vertical strips of decorative material are inlaid into the floor. These strips feature various patterns: some are solid dark colors (black or dark brown), some have a fine grid or perforated pattern, and others have a horizontal striped pattern. The lighting is soft, highlighting the natural texture of the wood.

lineadeko

THE DECORATION ON WOOD CLIMBS ON THE WALLS

Lineadeko comes from the cooperation between Inkiostro Bianco and Listone Giordano: a new interpretation of the wooden material enhanced by colour digital printing.

A path which started on horizontal surfaces, but now climbs up on the walls becoming a vertical and complete covering system.

This concept of wallcovering produces sensations of uncommon beauty, creating walls with a pleasant touch, lively and evocative, that are in tune with our emotions during everyday life.

CREATIVE THINKING

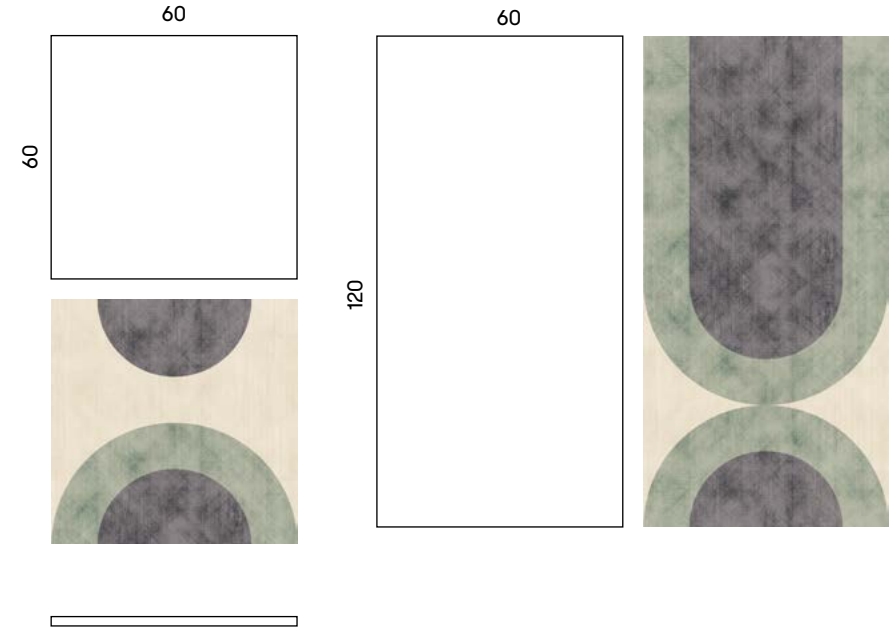

lineadeko

The idea of wallcovering itself is reinvented and transformed into an enchanted and dynamic furnishing element, able to design new spaces and widen perspectives, thus creating unusual atmospheres.

Material
Birch
wood

Ideal for living areas and more delicate ones like bathrooms and kitchens thanks to the strong resistance of birch wood.

Birch wood is a broadleaf tree that grows quickly and thus ensures a more rational use of forest resources.

By Aldo Cibic

“ There are few light and versatile materials and using wood as a versatile material is a new possibility. I think this concept should be enhanced and nourished, because it offers the chance to easily work on vertical and horizontal dimension and to play both with contrast and with uniformity between the two. ”

Aldo Cibic

The collection of three-dimensional surfaces signed by Aldo Cibic perfectly represents the union among design, naturalness of the wooden material and new printing and engraving technologies.

It is a sophisticated project with a striking graphic and decorative impact, rich in spectacular elements inspired by nature, graphic arts, photography and contemporary art, which cut through gorgeous walls, even on big dimensions, and liven them up with elegant aspects and design textures.

This covering system connects architectural elements with different aesthetics within the house, sketching geometries and decorations that combine and create a balanced and harmonic style.

Thus, a common thread is created, which leads the eye to perceive the shapes as a whole.
