

JEWELRY CARE

General tips on jewelry care:

- You should always take off your jewelry before exercising, bathing or showering.
- You should never store your jewelry in the bathroom or other damp places, as the moisture can cause the jewelry to discolor or tarnish.
- Your jewelry should be the last thing you put on and the first thing you take off when you get home. You should take your jewelry off no later than before you go to bed.
- Don't let your jewelry come in contact with cosmetics, such as creams and other chemicals like hairspray, nail polish remover or perfume.
- It pays to always place and store your jewelry in a jewelry box or on a fabric pad, this way you avoid scratches. Our velvet pouches are perfect for storing your jewelry.

The storage

To prevent silver jewelry from tarnishing, you should store it in our pouches and in the jewelry box or small ziplock bags and jewelry boxes, keeping it as light and air-tight as possible. This way you will enjoy your real jewelry for a long time.

Cleaning

It pays off to clean your favorite jewelry gently every month. All you need is lukewarm water, a soft cloth and mild soap. For fancy jewelry with lots of details, you can use a soft toothbrush for cleaning. You can go over the jewelry with the silver polishing cloth or toothbrush in gentle, circular motions to bring back the shine of the precious metal. It is important that your jewelry is completely dry again before you put it back in the velvet pouch or your jewelry box. The before and after effect is great and it costs little effort.
