Printable Ring Size Guide

Discover your perfect ring size effortlessly with this user-friendly tutorial. All you require is a printer and a ring that you already own. Here's a helpful hint: choose a ring with a similar style and band width to the one you have in mind.
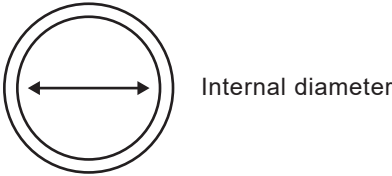

Step 1

Begin by printing this document, ensuring that the page scaling is set to 100% to create a full A4 page. After printing, verify the line below – it should precisely measure 30mm. This serves as your precision reference.

Step 2

Take the measurement of the inner diameter (as shown below) of a ring you already have, which reflects the desired fit for your new jewelry. Then, find the corresponding ring size at the bottom of this page.

Step 3

Alternatively, place the band of your ring on the chart below and align the inside edge with the nearest-sized circle. The corresponding US ring size that best matches your ring's fit is your ring size. If your measurement falls in between two sizes, we recommend selecting the larger size for improved comfort.
