ART

A WILD GARDEN STUDIO

Catalog 2023-2024

About

Kelcey Jones is a wife and a mom to two adorable toddlers. She is, at her core, a creator—having started early with amateur crafts and now honing all her efforts into professional art and illustrations.

Kelcey loves all things colorful and vibrant, decorating her home and life with colorful bohemian décor and lots of living plants! She also finds joy in her garden and taking her kids on safari adventures every weekend. She hopes to be a shining example to her children and others of a mother who loves deep and follows big dreams.

Brand Story

I read a book about the history of colors. It reminded me that pigment originally came from earth minerals, plants, and animals. I felt so inspired by the idea that I could dig up clay and sculpt it and that I could make color from materials grown in my backyard.

My brand is unique because I love to explore how to make art by using natural materials to create pieces made from the earth again.

The products I will be selling are ceramic sculptures that can be used for floral arrangement. All pieces can be used to arrange both dried and fresh flowers. The floral arrangements can be taken out of the sculpture if the owner would like to customize the look.

I also plan on selling dried flowers that I have grown in my garden.

I plan to work towards my entire portfolio being made out of sustainable and all natural materials that I have foraged or grown myself.
