Vitamin C is involved in virtually every biochemical and biological process in the body. A powerful antioxidant, it enhances immune function, and protects body tissues from damage by free radicals and toxins. Bioflavonoids are essential for the absorption and utilization of vitamin C; in Enerex Bio C 1000, the bioavailability of each is enhanced by the presence of the other in the ideal 1:1 ratio.

Vitamin C is water soluble, and must be replenished every few hours for maximum effect. In fact, research shows that 500 mg taken every four hours provides higher blood levels of vitamin C than a single daily dose of 5000 mg.
