SATISFACTION

- > Horny Goat Weed (Epimedium brevicornu) Studies show Epimedium improves sexual health and quality of life in patients with low libido and chronic renal failure.
- > Korean Ginseng (Panax ginseng) Ginseng 's active ingredient (ginsenoside), increases blood flow to the penis to stimulate sexual performance and increase sexual endurance & stamina. Studies show that the majority of erectile dysfunction patients will experience improvements.
- > Damiana (Turnera diffusa) Damiana is a traditional aphrodisiac used by the Mayan people for sexual stimulation and increased energy and potency.
- > Ginkgo (Ginkgo biloba) Improves mental alertness and increases peripheral circulation, thus producing harder erections. In one published study, 78% of men with erection problems reported significant improvement.
- > Maca (Lepidium meyenii) Maca (Peruvian Ginseng) has a long history as an aphrodisiac and physical energizer. Research indicates that it has a regulating effect on hormones and increases libido.
- > Puncturevine (Tribulus terrestris) Used in the treatment of spermatorrhea, impotence, infertility, and incontinence.
- > Saw Palmetto (Serenoa repens/serrulata) Although popular for supporting a healthy prostate & urinary system, it is also used as a tonic for the male reproductive system and to restore & strengthen sexual desire.
- > Velvet Bean (Mucuna pruriens) A traditional aphrodisiac containing a naturally occurring source of L-Dopa, the precursor to dopamine (the brain's pleasure chemical), which has a significant impact on sexual pleasure and functioning.
- > Green Tea (Camellia sinensis) This powerful antioxidant destroys certain bacteria and viruses, enhances the immune system, and helps to combat prostate cancer.
- > L-Arginine Converts into nitric oxide, the primary physiological mediator for men's arousal. May also further enhance penile arterial blood flow, leading to firmer erections.
- > Zinc Plays a strong role in prostate health, sexual development, reproduction, blood pressure, and heart beat regulation.
- > Vitamins B3 (Niacin), B6, B9 (Folate), and B12 B Vitamins are critical factors for good health. B3 (Niacin) is well known for its ability to improve blood circulation but also assists in the synthesis of the sex hormones estrogen, progesterone, and testosterone. It can also produce a "niacin flush" that increases tactile sensations and enhances orgasms.
