Designing Women Market Application to Participate

Designing Women Market is a day-long marketplace to showcase exceptional products by women makers, designers, and entrepreneurs. The public will be able to meet, chat, and shop for unique gifts with the women who make them.

The NYHistory Store believes that the interaction between history lovers who support our business and the women producers living out their stories of creativity and commerce is a positive demonstration that we each make history matter every day. We are always accepting applications from women who are interested in participating in Designing Women Market.

We have a market each Spring in April or May, and we have a holiday edition, usually in early December. There is no entry fee to participate. The terms are a 50/50 split. That is, we will pay you 50% of your retail price for the items you sell that day. At close of business we will total sales for each vendor and issue a report to you. Please be prepared to invoice us promptly. Please send us the following information to apply:
