StarBrite was created in the early 1990's by Tommy Ringwalt Sr. and two others. Their mission, to create a premium tattoo ink that would change the tattoo industry forever. StarBrite Colors, Goes in Stays In, and stands the test of time. Tom Ringwalt Jr. partnered with his father in 2004 and revolutionized the way StarBrite Colors is produced. All bottles are tested and sterilized, meeting worldwide health demands. Tom Jr. sells and markets StarBrite all over the world, making it one of the most popular inks in the industry.

Tommy Jr. and Sr. wanted to do more for the StarBrite brand by making it the safest, cleanest, and best tattoo ink made today. Since the separation from Papillon, we have our StarBrite Colors tested and sterilized, new black twist caps, unique die-cut labels, and clear bottles. StarBrite has a loyal following of customers who purchase our inks regularly and know that Tommy's Supplies has gone above and beyond to produce a safe and reliable product that is used worldwide.

We have a great foundation, keeping up with the industry's new health requirements on all of our tattoo inks. All changes done to StarBrite colors are through Tommy's Supplies. Be sure to look for the "produced and bottled by Tommy's Supplies". All StarBrite Colors produced by Tommy's Supplies are made in the UNITED STATES.

StarBrite Colors stands for excellence in mixing and production of top quality inks. Making sure you are getting the very best is a priority for our company. When you see the "TM Owner" logo on our bottle, you know you are getting our best and safest product possible.

The Ringwalt family prides itself in being, above all else, safe. Safe in creating a product that is distributed free of bacteria and contaminants. StarBrite was of the first inks to be treated prior to shipping, to ensure quality, and above all, safety.
