Nutrition tests for:

Corporate wellness

Nutrition assessment for healthier employees
Corporate wellness companies who first offer nutrition tests will satisfy a clear demand and will enjoy a strong competitive advantage.

Trajan is ready to partner with corporate wellness providers interested in delivering nutrition test services to their corporate clients.

Nutritional tests for corporate wellness

Recent scientific evidence indicates that:

- All adults have a higher risk of a coronary heart event if their omega-3 index is below a certain level.
- Pregnant women have higher preterm birth risk if their omega-3 fatty acid status is not within a certain range.

This represents an opportunity for corporate wellness providers to diversify and enrich their service portfolio by offering nutrition tests to the current and new corporate clientele.

Delivering accurate and reliable nutrition testing campaigns in a corporate environment requires experience in sample collection and analytical testing procedures.

DBS cards and sample collection kits can be customized with your brand and logo, or with your corporate client’s logo.
Sample collection kits and cards

Trajan has expertise in Dried Blood Spot (DBS) technology, which allow employees to be tested less invasively and safely, in their office environment. After sample collection, DBS cards can be simply shipped via mail to our laboratories.

Analytical testing service

Trajan offers, with a very short turnaround time, an analytical testing service for nutritional panels in its laboratories or through partnerships, for instance with the SAHMRI nutrition laboratory in Adelaide, Australia.

If our facilities are not in a suitable geographical location for your operations, we will choose a closer analytical testing laboratory equipped with Trajan methodologies and instrumentation.

Test results:

Trajan offers customized data management support.

- A detailed nutrition test report to each employee, with easy to read interpretation guides.
- Aggregated test results of the entire community of employees, for further corporate wellness initiatives.

Collecting, storing, transporting and analyzing biological samples for nutrition testing is easy with Trajan’s solution for corporate wellness. Just take a drop of blood, apply to our collection card and post to our lab. A partnership with Trajan will allow you to start offering innovative nutrition tests to your corporate clients, fulfilling the fast growing demand for nutrition testing.

With our turn-key nutrition test solution developed for corporate wellness companies, we will take care of the entire workflow on your behalf.
