Framingham State University Course Credit Explanation

At Framingham State University we report coursework on a per course basis. Each graduate course that is part of a degree program is four credits and is shown on the student transcript as "1.0". Courses that are less than four credits are shown as a portion of "1.0". A three credit course is ".75", a two credit course is ".5" and a one credit course is ".25". There is a short definition of this method on the reverse side of an official transcript issued by our Registrar's Office.

The information is also available on our web site (bottom of the page) at:
