

Prayer for Strength

Abba, I decree Your Word which says that I am strong in the Lord and His strength. I have received Your strength as promised and refuse to allow the enemy to tempt me with weakness or negative thinking. I am not giving out or giving up: You are putting me OVER. This is my victory lap. The contest is already won. I am strengthened in my soul and my body because You are my vitality in this present season of trial. I decree I run and do not get weary; I accomplish the work of ten; I have energy and strength to finish my course and accomplish all those things that You have called and commissioned me to do. I refuse to say, "I'm tired..." or "I can't take this anymore..." My race is still being run. I have strength for the race and strength for the journey. The finishing anointing is upon me. This is the season and the hour that I finish well and receive the trophies of a contest well fought and the crown of victory upon my head. I proclaim that I am experiencing Your fullness and increased capacity within me for the final push to victory and breakthrough.

You said that I am to taste and see that You are good and doing good in my behalf. It is true! You are good, and as I dine on Your Word, I receive by faith the supernatural sustaining bread that the angel gave Elijah. I outrun and outlast the enemy: he won't be able to keep up...his resources are limited and being exhausted even now. My resources are limitless because they are from You and You live in me. You are now enabling me to taste of the vintage of Your Spirit that launches me into the "now" experience of Your provisioning and deliverance. There's been a grappling taking place in my life as the enemy has sought to dispossess me of my blessing and to destroy my ability to contain that blessing. I decree that You are strengthening and shoring up those things in me that have weakened to the point of breaking. I decree that Your Hand is imparting renewed strength and bringing forth my freedom from fear, doubt and discouragement. I decree that Your divine justice on my behalf at the judgment bar of heaven has set me free from the accusations of the enemy and he is condemned and sentenced by Your righteous declaration of his guilt. So be it.

I pray this in the name and power of Jesus Christ.
