

ROSEHILL
WINE CELLARS

DIY Metal Wine Racking Disclaimer

Thank you for choosing Rosehill Wine Cellars for your wine storage needs. Please note that the metal wine racking systems we offer are not standard DIY kits. These systems require detailed planning, a moderate level of DIY skill, and the appropriate tools and equipment for installation.

Installation Requirements:

Time Commitment: Installing some of our metal wine racks can be time-consuming. Please ensure you have allocated sufficient time to complete the installation without rushing.

Planning: Proper planning is essential. Consider the layout, design, and needs of your space before beginning the installation.

Tools & Equipment: You will need specific tools and equipment to install these racks correctly. Make sure you have all necessary items before starting the installation.

Skill Level: Some technical know-how and experience with DIY projects are required. The complexity of the installation may not be suitable for beginners.

Recommendations: For the best results and to ensure the safety and stability of your wine racking system, we recommend consulting with or hiring a professional if you are not confident in your ability to install these systems on your own.

By purchasing and attempting to install these racking systems, you acknowledge that you understand the requirements and complexity involved. Rosehill Wine Cellars is not responsible for any issues arising from improper installation.

For assistance or to inquire about professional installation services, please contact our support team at csr@rosehillwinecellars.com.

Thank you for choosing Rosehill Wine Cellars. Enjoy building your dream wine cellar!

The RWC team