Size:

Head circumference to nearest ¼ inch: _____. Measure at eyebrow level using a soft measuring tape or non-stretch string. Measure at least twice to ensure the measurement is correct.

- Loose fit - if you prefer a loose fitting hat or want to wear a ball cap under your fur hat you may want to choose loose fit
- Regular fit - if you prefer to have minimal extra space in your hat, select regular fit

Lining: For the hat lining I use merino wool underlined with boiled wool. Merino wool against the skin is soft, absorbent and odor resistant, the boiled wool underlining adds additional insulation and cushion.

Please list quantity and type of pelts provided: _____

Pelts must be professionally tanned and in good condition. A few small (quarter size or smaller) holes are acceptable. There will be an additional charge for time spent on repairs of excessive or large holes. Pelts must not be overfleshed. I do not work with vintage pelts. Extra pelts and scraps will be returned with finished items. If you want earmuffs or koozies made, I will let you know how many can be made after your main items are finished.

Blankets

This form is intended to guide our conversation about your blanket, not replace it. Please contact me to discuss details and any questions you have!

A deposit is required to hold your spot in my queue. In most cases I will have you wait to ship your pelts to me until a few weeks before I begin your order, due to limited storage space. You may choose to put down a deposit of half, and pay the remaining half once your blanket is finished, or put down a 1/3 deposit, send in a payment of 1/3 when you ship me your pelts, and the final 1/3 when complete. Orders not paid in full within 30 days of completion will be subject to a 5% fee for each subsequent month.

Blanket Size Desired in Inches: _____

Any particular design or layout desired (ie: square panels vs octagon pattern for beaver blankets): _____

Backing material: For the backing fabric I recommend wool or a wool blend, it's the most odor resistant, dirt resistant, and stain resistant, breathable and natural. If you do not want wool, other options are available, like quilted nylon, velvet or satin.

- Blanket weight wool: It is thick, sturdy and usually the most cost effective (included in my base rate), and comes in just about any color you want, including buffalo plaid and other patterns. One possible negative is that pet hair clings to it, so if you have pets that don't match the fabric it will show.
- Coat weight wool: It is thinner but still quite sturdy (same weight as what would be used on a wool peacoat). It is more expensive than blanket weight wool. Also comes in many colors, but unlikely to find it in plaid. Also attracts pet hair.
- Suit weight wool: It is the thinnest and softest but is also the most delicate and will likely wear out with a decade or so of use. It's more expensive than blanket weight, and only available in earth tones. It does not attract pet hair.

Color Backing Desired: _____

Please let me know if you would like samples of each weight to feel, I can mail them to you.

Custom Hand stitched patch:

Shape

- State: _____
- Square
- Oval

Lettering: _____

Color of stitching: _____

Blanket construction: I sew a cotton cloth stay cloth on the back side of the hides for strength, and put batting in between the backing and hides for cushion and extra warmth.
