The old rocking chair is making a comeback as a cocooning rocking lounge chair, aptly called Coco and designed by Omar Al Gurg, founder of modular furniture brand MODU. Comprising an abundance of curves that allows one to “swaddle like a happy baby”, Coco is made of fibreglass and works for both indoor and outdoor spaces (be it the pool, garden or your favourite reading nook). It also comes in a range of fun pastel shades (like mint and coral) or bolder red and black tones.
