BETWEEN LESS AND MORE

Brid focuses on so-called functional decor, objects between design, function and decoration. These objects are deprived of aesthetics and are designed to fulfill their function. No interior can be without them — they quietly support everyday life. The collections will expand with diverse objects — primarily listening to the users' needs, which enables an extremely dynamic and unexpected approach. All items have the same design intention — emphasizing the beauty of natural materials, simple lines and shapes by constant change in usage possibilities.

The careful craftsmanship of local artisans celebrates the beauty of artistic expression and unexpected accents that will be discovered by the user. The philosophy 'between less & more' best reveals the goal of Brid — function & décor, minimal & eclectic, quiet & loud.

PROJECT

Brid started with cabinet handles and hooks. Outlines of simple geometric shapes — circles and rectangles are emphasized by the logic of natural materials. Stone with its porous structure and wood with its warmth give the objects recognizable aesthetics.

First collection consists of two stone handles and three wooden handles. Stones models come in four different stone types, while wooden in two. By selecting variety of materials, each user and interior can find their best fit. Custom options like different sizes and finishes are available upon request or project basis. All of the handle materials are natural therefore slight deviations and imperfections are part of their beauty.

FOUNDERS

Brid is a collective established by two architects from Croatia, Tina Biloglav and Mia Andrašević Vukelić, whose professional focus is on designing and shaping interior spaces.

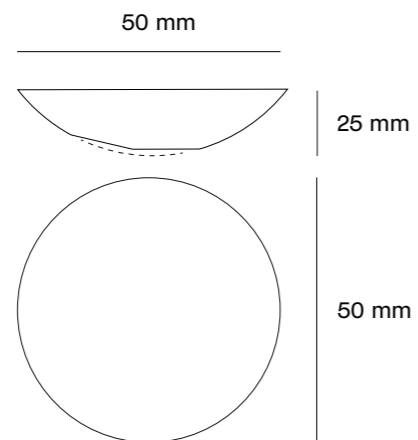

The collective was founded in 2023 as a platform for dealing with highly functional daily objects that can be found in every interior, but they lack design and attention to the details.

NONO OAK

Simple round spots can be both used as cabinet knobs or wall hooks. They offer the possibility to be mounted at two different positions - parallel with the background or tilted at 45 degrees. With this, a purely functional object becomes a very decorative one, but still keeping its primary intention. Spots come in several oak finishes so each interior can find a fit for them.

O OAK

A carefully crafted section makes this handle stand out. Simple, yet elegant design will enhance every cabinet door. The section is created by two overlapping geometric shapes in a specific ratio. Beauty of oak and its rings is accentuated through the cylinder part of the handle.

L OAK

'Often sought, but never found' is what was inspiration behind this piece. A simple L — section with bold elevation is designed so that it can fit in both subtle and eclectic interiors and still retain its beauty. Oak in two finishes offers a variety of matching options for each background possible.

BOLD SHORT CARRARA

Choosing stone as a handle seems as a contradiction as a handle is an object which is in the closest contact with the users. Stone is cold but at the same time it gives that special something. Simple yet functional cross-section ensure that the handle reflects the core beauty of the stone as a material.

BOLD CARRARA

Tectonics of this simple handle are accentuated by its material. Although the shapes are rectangular, the stone texture softens the appearance by making the handle unique and interesting. The section has been designed to ensure the optimal hand grip but also to keep the general aesthetics unspoilt. Clean outlines, stone texture and functional design make this piece stand out.
