“Fine jewellery that gives you more”

At Butler & Rose, we offer only the most exquisitely crafted fine jewellery. Our sales team have worked alongside the top brands in the world, selling exceptional gems and luxury watches. It's an incredible experience to share in the celebration of anniversaries, engagements, treats, and weddings, by helping our customers choose an important piece of jewellery.

As an online-only jeweller, we do things a little differently. Our streamlined approach lets us focus solely on the jewellery. We trim everything you don't need from the process to give you so much more. There's no shop, no staff, no distractions, just a wonderfully simple service that gives you all the fun and flair but none of the fuss. You pay for none of the overheads and get an excellent price for the jewellery.

We create fine jewellery that gives you more freedom for all the little extras that life brings. Our aim is to share as much experience to help people create and buy the perfect pieces with the goal of transparency, quality, fair pricing and strong business ethics. All of our workshops are based in the UK and Ireland, supporting local businesses, using craftsman we know and trust.
