

Vitalizer Luxury - a smart investment in health.

Dr. Christian Larsen, founder of Spiraldynamik (spine specialist, bestseller and laureate) is significantly involved in the development, also with the support of the robotics department of ETH Zurich.

The system looks like a massage chair but is much more than that.

Asian massage techniques, such as foot reflexology, acupressure on calves, arms and hands, 3-D shiatsu massage in the back and oscillating vibration, not only promote blood circulation, but also optimize the flow of energy in the body and mind, thereby releasing energy blockages.

The system, massages, stretches, presses and you are placed in different positions. Among other things one is led into a zero-gravity position (one has the feeling of weightlessness) and the system gently stretches and relieves the spine.

Sensors and scanners not only measure the length and width of the back, but also the position and shape of the spine, which leads to an individually adapted experience and efficient therapy.

The oscillating vibration (that is the swing weight, which is in contrast to vibration, which goes up and down, and from left and right), the body fluids, calibrated, balanced, which helps to release the energy blockages in body and mind, so that the energy flow is restored.

Optimized energy flow can not only promote relaxation, but can also strengthen the immune system, reduce pain, inhibit inflammation, help with digestion and sleep problems.

One regenerates much more efficiently and stress and fatigue symptoms are combated. It can support purification and detoxification of the body and increase performance.

It is said that the brain is probably the best doctor and Vitalizer Luxury is nothing more than a tool for the body and mind to regenerate and heal faster and more efficiently.

The system is used and recommended by doctors, therapists, top athletes and stressed people.

The Laureus Foundation (foundation for young athletes), the HC Davos (ice hockey), the British Masters (golf event of the European Tour), the SwissSeniorOpen (golf), use and support the Vitalizer Luxury as partners and ambassadors. Professional athletes such as Carlos Lima (handball), Swiss professional golfer Andre Bossert and Fabienne In-Albon, as well as the Klinik Gut and Therme Bad Ragaz, among many others, are also ambassadors of this Swiss-made high-tech regeneration and health system.

The system also has an integrated sound system, which is controlled via Blue-Tooth and supported by algorithm, you can even regenerate to the rhythm of the desired music.

Equipped with 18 airbags, the system massages and regenerates each body individually and one has the feeling that the sensors even recognize the tensions and work there correspondingly more intensively.

After only 15 minutes one has the immediate effect, one feels immediately that the body and spirit relaxes, the stress is massively reduced and the well-being and the contentment adjust themselves.

You can hardly describe this system with words, you simply have to experience and try it out.

The Vitalizer Luxury convinces not only with its effect but also with its design and unique technology. It is Swiss made and is indispensable in today's stressful world.

It does not necessarily replace the masseur, but it complements him perfectly.

The system can be used several times a day and this without having to make an appointment with the therapist, without having to travel, save a lot of time, not having to get rid of your clothes and depending on the availability of the therapist.

The system comes with years of full warranty, consumes very little electricity and is easy to operate via a remote control.

Health, freedom and well-being, are areas which justify such a purchase, because without health and well-being we don't have much anymore.
