VARIEGATED

The collected works of 'Variegated' refer to different colours existing together and especially irregular patterns or streaks. To make something more diverse or exploring a variegated tangle of colour and texture, diversifying, and disposing of them in various and irregular spaces and patterns.

Stacey's works are frequently an exploration of impressions surrounding individual identity and the way we represent ourselves, from the inner and outer perspective.

About the Artist

Stacey Rees is a contemporary abstract artist based in the Grampians, Victoria and is an observer of life and people. She looks beyond what is on the surface and is more interested in inner workings.

Although Stacey has been exhibiting since 2002 and was most recently a finalist in the Percival Portrait Painting Prize, 2020, this will be Stacey's third reveal at the gallery.
