| P8: Oct 31st 2020 | 2012 Domain Mega Spileo Cabernet Sauvignon | R | 12 | 539924 | 100 | $29.95 | 91 Robert Parker |
| Country: Greece  Domain MEGA SPILEO Region: Achaia | Tasting Note: “The 2012 Cabernet Sauvignon Grand Cave was aged for 28 months in an 85/15 mixture of French and American oak (70% new, the rest second use). It comes in at 14.5% alcohol. When last seen, about two years back, this seemed pretty terrific and a big bargain. It still is. It has moderated some tannins and is a bit more approachable now. Mingling a bit of cream and velvet for texture, this has reasonable mid-palate finesse, fine focus and a big finish. It is also a bit too affected by its wood, and its power is still pretty evident. It can be approached, but that doesn't mean it is fully ready, in other words. As has been the trend with these submissions, an hour or so of air makes it tighter. Then, another hour brings it back around. It eventually shows well. Ultimately, the wood is a bit more of an issue than the tannins. This has a long way to go, perhaps longer than I think. Fermentation is carried out in small tanks made of stainless steel at low temperature for 3 months on fine lees for Malagouzia and Assyrtiko. Chardonnay, for its part, is fermented in oak barrels of 300 L for a period of 4 months. After final assembly, the wine remains in a stainless steel tank for 3 weeks before bottling. On the nose the wine has scents of honey-colored flowers such as linden, but also notes of fresh basil and nectarine. With a hint of coconut and orange. On the palate, fresh acidity is followed by fruitiness and roundness from the effects of the oak. The texture is ample, with vivacity in harmony with the whole. The finish is greedy, tasty and crisp. | P13: Mar 6th 2021 | 2017 Kir Yianni Naoussa Cuvée Villages | R | 12 | 14151 | 200 | $19.95 | 90pts Wine Advocate |
| Country: Greece  Region: Naoussa | Tasting Note: "The 2017 Naoussa Cuvée Villages, is all Xinomavro aged for 12 months in used French oak (with 10% American). This bottling hasn't been around for long, but it already looks like a winner. Showing fine concentration for the level, it adds a refined demeanor and a real backbone. The tannins aren't too hard, though, so you can drink this young. This may be a deeper and tighter wine, and fruitier than its predecessor. As a rule, Xinomavro ages very well, even at the value-wine level (and to a considerable extent, even in warmer years). There is no rush, so if you can toss this in the cellar for another year, that would be nice. It may age better than anticipated." 90 points Wine Advocate (Mark Squires April 2019) | | | | | |  |
