Conditions

A copy of your original invoice is necessary for any warranty claim.

Because Elka Suspension products are designed for use in racing and extreme riding conditions, Elka Suspension cannot guarantee any of its suspension products, other than from manufacturing defects, because we have no control over how our products are used after installation. In addition, the purchaser assumes full responsibility to the extent legally permitted for the risks of personal injury and/or damage to the purchaser's vehicle or to any third party that may be involved in an incident with the purchaser.

All Elka Suspension shock absorbers are ready for installation. Our products provide the user with some control over certain aspects of the suspension, therefore they might require some testing and fine-tuning to obtain maximum performance. With adjustability comes responsibility!

Elka Suspension Inc. reserves the right to make the final decision in all matters pertaining to its warranty.
