Early in my life, I realised I never liked any one form of jewelry. I was as obsessed with traditional Indian Jadaav chokers, as I was with a neat, Diamond tennis bracelet. I would be riveted at the flaws in an Emerald, as I was hypnotised by the perfection of a Diamond.

I have been fascinated and mildly obsessed by jewelry since I was a little girl. It got me into tremendous trouble with my mother whose jewelry was often raided and ransacked; but hopefully she gets it now!

This year, we have all spent a fair amount of time by the sea - physically or metaphorically speaking. 2 months ago, as I began working on my annual jewelry show, I went ahead with what had comforted me a lot during the trying days of 2021 - the sounds of the Arabian Sea.

Wave After Wave is a show of 200 jewels, hand-picked by me from all over India featuring a myriad of contemporary styles and genres.

The jewels are selected from some of the freshest as well as, established names of the Indian jewellery world. Jewelers and Gem experts whose work I wholeheartedly love.

You will find clean designs, excellent gem stones - Emeralds, Diamonds, Sapphires, Tanzanite, Aquamarines...all the colours of life. You will find jewelry that is thoughtful, architectural, comforting and collector-worthy for individuals and brides.

As I continue to break away from the very traditional way we observe and buy jewelry, come join me in the journey and adventure of Wave After Wave.

Optimistically,
Arundhati De Sheth
