

Guide to selling your lab equipment. 10-point Check List for success.

	Yes
1. Check you have approval to sell your used lab equipment	<input type="radio"/>
2. Check where the proceeds from the sale will go	<input type="radio"/>
3. Gather all accessories, manuals and service records	<input type="radio"/>
4. Check that the unit still works and is functional	<input type="radio"/>
5. Create list of inventory and specific details of each unit	<input type="radio"/>
6. Clean and decontaminate all pieces of equipment and accessories	<input type="radio"/>
7. Take photographs of the units - front and nameplate	<input type="radio"/>
8. Delete all data from the memory	<input type="radio"/>
9. Consider logistics - are specialist lab movers required?	<input type="radio"/>
10. Select a Used Lab Equipment Dealer	<input type="radio"/>

Cash-out your cupboards with relabbed