We do full customization of your sock design. All over images, step and repeat designs, cool skater stripes, multi geometrics, anything you can dream up, we can do. See our gallery of socks at flagpin.com/blogs/news

We can knit socks with up to 6 colors per sock design. Color and detail can affect each other so a lot of detail can limit the amount of color and vice versa. Simple, elegant designs work best, but we can try any design. Socks are designed and knit on a grid pattern which transfers into around 26 dpi. Small text has to be at least 3/16” tall. Straight fonts work best for readability and we try to have at least 2 pixel wide lettering for good visibility. Italicized fonts and fonts with serifs are more difficult and usually have to be a little larger to work well.

DYE SUBLIMATION SOCKS

Dye sublimation is a digital printing technology that allows for full-color printing on fabrics like socks. It works by turning dye into a gas using heat and pressure which is then absorbed into the material, bonding the ink directly with the fibers.

DYE SUBLIMATION HYBRID SOCKS

Whether you want a single vivid color or a full photographic design, dye sublimation will make your artwork stand out. It's perfect for complex, colorful images that require depth and dimension for the ultimate high-definition sock print.

For those needing firmer compression, we offer custom medical grade compression socks. These socks apply graduated pressure up the leg, with the greatest compression at the ankle. They are used to treat various circulatory disorders. The gradient compression improves blood flow, reduces swelling, and helps prevent blood clots in the legs.
