

Birding Guide to North-East Scotland

including part of the Cairngorms National Park

Mark Sullivan
&
Ian Francis

RSPB Scotland
Aberdeen and District
Local Group
celebrating 40 years

North-East Scotland is often overlooked by birdwatchers. Yet just a very brief visit reveals an incredibly rich area for birds and even those living and working here may not know some of the more hidden sites. Over 150 species are known to nest, and regular winter and passage visitors and vagrants bring the total to 387. This detailed illustrated guide shows how to find birds and other wildlife at many sites and contains a full checklist of birds recorded. It is the most comprehensive guide yet published on where to see birds in Aberdeenshire and Aberdeen City.

I wish to order copy /ies of the Birding Guide to North-East Scotland.

I enclose a cheque for £..... (£10 per copy+£2.50p+p) made payable to

"Aberdeen and District RSPB Group"

Post to M. Sullivan, 29 Earlswells Rd, Cults, Aberdeen AB15 9NY

Name

.....

Delivery Address

.....

.....

Post code.....

Contact telephone number

Contact e-mail address