CAPSULE COLLECTION

TRUE

SINCE 1996

"NOT NEW TO THIS, TRUE TO THIS"

Nineteen years in streetwear - that's how long True has been at it, observers and purveyors of trends, brands and careers. The flags in this capsule represent the far reaches of the world from where our friends, families and customers come from. The wolf, smart and loyal, stands in for True's commitment to running the company as a collective, like a pack. This collection, like so many before it, was crafted and molded with input from every member of the company, bridging different elements to create one united vision. The tagline "Not new to this, True to this" is representative of our longevity in the industry. Nineteen years in and our commitment to doing what we do best - breaking new brands while housing streetwear's best and brightest - is withstanding, a formula for success we will never stray from. From our collective braintrust to you, we present our 19 Year Anniversary Capsule Collection.
