Capability Statement

Capabilities Narrative

Madhouz LLC is a promotional product distributor and proud member of the Advertising Specialty Institute (ASI) with 30 years in the market. Its capacity to provide companies with an extensive array of promotional products from over 3,000 suppliers underscores their commitment. Given the vast selection of ad specialties available, significant opportunities await professionals to elevate return on investment and leave a lasting impact on customers.

Promotional products, also recognized as ad specialties, constitute an industry valued at nearly $22 billion dollars and are embraced by virtually every business in America. The rationale behind this widespread adoption is simple: items such as mugs, pens, and t-shirts are memorable and offer advertisers a more favorable cost per impression compared to almost every major marketing medium, including television, magazines, and the internet.

The core of Madhouz's mission lies in assisting customers in the creation of enduring relationships with their clients through the influence of promotional products.
