

3M Architectural Films now at Total!

Total Supply appointed as the newest distributor of 3M Architectural Films in New Zealand.

Total Supply, a leading provider of innovative graphic solutions in New Zealand, is proud to announce its appointment as an official distributor of the 3M Architectural Films range. This exciting partnership expands Total Supply's existing portfolio of 3M products to now include DI-NOC, Fasara, Window Security Films and Tints, offering cutting-edge solutions for a wide range of architectural and design applications.

Product Range

The expanded product line now includes 3M™ DI-NOC™ Architectural Finishes. These versatile finishes mimic natural materials such as wood, metal, and marble, ideal for cost-effective interior and exterior refurbishments. With hundreds of patterns available, DI-NOC offers unparalleled design flexibility. 3M™ Fasara™ Glass Finishes are designed to enhance the aesthetics and functionality of glass surfaces, providing decorative solutions ranging from frosted to textured patterns, which are suitable for creating privacy in commercial and residential spaces. 3M™ Window Tinting Films offer superior sun control, heat reduction, and UV protection, contributing to improved energy efficiency and comfort in buildings. 3M™ Safety & Security Window Films reinforce glass, reducing the risk of injury and property damage by holding shards in place upon breakage. 3M™ Surface Protection Films, an extension of the existing automotive PPF range, protect surfaces from scratches and wear in high-traffic areas.

Extended Supply Network

A significant advantage of this new distributorship is the expanded supply network through a strategic alignment with parent company, Spicers Australia. By leveraging Spicers' extensive distribution channels already established in Australia, Total Supply can offer shorter lead times and a broader range of stock to customers in New Zealand. This enhanced supply chain means that products can be delivered more quickly, enabling customers to meet project deadlines more efficiently and with increased flexibility in product selection.

3M Architectural Films now at Total!

Commitment to Excellence

Total Supply has proudly distributed 3M films in New Zealand for over a decade and the extension into architectural films underscores its dedication to providing cutting-edge solutions to the industry. With a reputation for delivering high-quality products and exceptional customer service, Total Supply is a trusted partner for businesses across New Zealand.

We are thrilled to announce the addition of James McIntosh to our team to head the new division. James re-joins Total Supply, departing in 2016 to take on new ventures, where he was sales manager. With his extensive experience and proven track record, James is poised to lead our new division to success. His innovative approach and deep industry insights will be invaluable as we expand and enhance our service offerings.

3M's architectural films offer significant advantages, including ease of application, durability, and various finishes that meet both aesthetic and practical requirements. These products provide architects and designers new possibilities for creating visually stunning and functional spaces while offering practical benefits such as energy efficiency and safety enhancements.
