

As we enter this holiday season, we continue to remember “Stan the Candy Man,” our beloved founder, father and husband. We remain committed to the values he instilled in us: a dedication to quality and the use of only the freshest ingredients in our candies, cakes and pies. That’s Stan’s legacy and our promise: to deliver the best Southern Candy to you and everyone on your gift list.

Thank you for your unwavering support throughout the years, and we look forward to serving you this holiday season.
