INSIDE OUTSIDE

(Luke 16:19-31)

He was an "upper class" citizen! He was rich. He had a fancy house, fancy clothes, fancy food, and plenty of it. Talk about "the good life"! He lived inside in luxury and didn't care about anyone on the outside. On the outside though, just beyond his gate lay a poor, penniless, starving beggar. No one cared for him. The only friends he had were some pitiful hungry dogs, who shared food scraps thrown out from the rich man's kitchen. Somehow the dogs understood his loneliness and need. Gently they came close and licked his awful sores. Their soft, smooth tongues soothed and comforted him. The dogs showed compassion as only they could. Soon the beggar died. The rich man didn't care, but angels came and carried the beggar up to heaven! Now he was comforted, whole, and perfectly satisfied. The rich man also died and had a fine funeral. They buried his body, but the real man, his soul, was in hell in fire and torment! Nothing could relieve his pain. He cried out to Abraham to please send Lazarus with a drop of water to cool his tongue. Abraham reminded him that in his earthly life he had opportunity to turn from his selfish life to God, but it was too late now. Lazarus was comforted, and he was in torment. He could not cross the great divide!

It was good that the dogs had compassion on Lazarus, but there is One today who has great compassion for you! Jesus loves you and died to pay for your sins. He is the only way to heaven. He said, "I am the way..." (John 14:6). "That whosoever believeth in him (Jesus Christ) should not perish, but have eternal life" (John 3:15). Have you believed in Christ? Don't be like the rich man. Don't let anything come between you and salvation.

Trust Christ today!

Don't Stick Out Your Tongue!

"Stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God" (Job 37:14).

Polite boys and girls are taught never to stick out their tongue! Why then, does your doggie go around with his tongue hanging out almost all of the time and no one fusses at him? Is he ill mannered? Is his tongue too big for his mouth? No! And don't try to make him keep it in! It is part of his cooling system!

Dogs don't sweat as humans do. We have sweat glands all over our bodies to help keep us cool. A dog's skin is covered with hair and most of his sweat glands are in his paws. He cools himself by panting. His open mouth and hanging tongue allows moisture to circulate through his body causing cooling through evaporation.

Dogs are special and make special friends. If you have one, take good care of him! When Jesus was on earth, He told a true story about some special dogs. Find them in the story on the other side of this Kidz Newz.

A Little Child Can

A little child can love Him;
A little child can pray,
A little child can trust Him
And learn His Word each day.

A little child can praise Him
And show his friends the Way.
A little child can live for God
And serve Him every day.

Navajo Angel (continued from last issue)

After Jim died, Miss Betsy carried on alone at the Mission near the Indian reservation. It was barren land and the Native Americans needed help. Betsy continued to give out food, clothes and supplies. She never let anyone leave without telling them of Jesus' love and sacrifice for sinners.

One morning as Betsy worked in her garden near a free range pasture, a massive bull suddenly came barreling through the fence into her yard like a bulldozer! Head down, nostrils blazing, he launched her into the air like a rocket, and she crash-landed head-first on the rocks! Everything was dark. She couldn't see. Blood trickled down her forehead and her eye was partly sticking out of its socket! Somehow she pushed it back in and could see faintly. An Indian couple came by and found Betsy in a helpless heap on the ground. They tried to stop the blood and called for help. An ambulance finally came and took her on the long trip to the hospital. It was a miracle she was still alive! She had many severe wounds and they wondered if she would live. The doctors said healing would take weeks, probably longer at her age (81). Not Betsy! After a short time, she was up and back "on duty". When asked how the doctor did it, she answered, "The doctor didn't do it; God did!"

God is still answering all of Miss Betsy's needs – her own and the Indians'. Betsy simply looks to Jesus, and "Jesus Never Fails". Let's ask the Lord to give us a servant's heart to care for and serve others "for His name's sake," and to follow His call to missions at home or abroad. (Remember to pray for Miss Betsy and the Widow's Mite Mission.)
