INTRODUCTION

It has often been said that money does not bring happiness. It can ease some hardships, but on its own money does not make a person happy. Neither does money make a person feel rich. One person can feel wealthy with very little money, while another feels poor with a great deal. Money worries do not seem to subside when more is accumulated; In fact, they often increase

In modern times more and more an indisputable link can be seen between integrity and finance. Money is not just a powerful symbol in culture but an important reality in everyday lives, as the Money, Finance and Business sections of daily newspapers attest. This report has highlighted some of the indicators in your Horoscope that point to your instinctual relationship with money. Sometimes the description might not match your experience or understanding, and sometimes contradictions can be read, but nonetheless the lessons are true. Reflecting upon the astrology will help you to become more aware of how money works in your life and how it is intimately bound up with your personal values. Money is not just a commodity, but is also a symbol of value and worth.

It is rare to meet someone who is indifferent to money. Money is a serious affair; it does matter. The word money finds its way into our modern language from the Latin word 'moneta' meaning mint. In the 3rd Century BCE the Romans established a mint at Juno Moneta's temple, which lasted for the next four centuries. The image of the goddess appeared on one side of the coin holding the scales in one hand and the cornucopia in the other, symbols of weighing up and balancing the abundance that the goddess provided. Ironically money has its taproot in a deeper wellspring.

Money plays an important role in your culture and society. It is also a psychological symbol and like all psychic complexes your relationship with it will be complex and complicated. As a psychic symbol, money is part of your fate; therefore, becoming aware of your relationship with it helps you become more conscious of its patterns in your life. Gaining an understanding of money and its place in your life can greatly assist in helping you to accept your circumstances and live in an easier flow of life, and an easier relationship with money.

This report has been aimed at helping you understand what role money plays in your life, what you truly value and in helping you focus on your soul's purpose.

YOUR MONEY TEMPERAMENT

"There are people who have money and there are people who are rich."
Coco Chanel, French Fashion Designer

This section reflects on your Sun, Moon and Rising Sign (or Ascendant). The trinity of the Sun, Moon and Ascendant depict character and temperament. In this section each is considered separately, based on your Horoscope's perspective on money. In the last section of this report all three are blended into an ancient formula known as the Part of Fortune.

In your Birth Chart the Sun depicts a driving force and is key to your identity and distinctiveness. This section does not interpret your Sun Sign in general terms, but is referring specifically to how it shapes your attitude to money and possessions. In a way the Sun is indicative of what you value, what emphasis you place on money and possessions and your ability to attract riches. Being "rich" means different things to different people; therefore, this section outlines what you value, how you might feel rich. Money does not always equal a feeling of being rich. Perhaps you value freedom more than you value money? Maybe you feel rich when you are surrounded by friends and plain simple fare? On the other hand, perhaps security and money are most important.

Your Sun Sign can indicate an ability to attain great wealth; For instance, your Sun in the Sign of Capricorn, Taurus or Aries could indicate great wealth. Each of these Zodiac Signs has different traits that attract wealth in different ways. If your Sun resides in one of the Angular Houses (mentioned below in this report) then you also have the ability to be wealthy. The idea is that the Sun shines its light either dimly or brightly on the wealth sectors of your Birth Chart. The placement of your Sun also shows you how you shine in the world. If you are shining brightly then you are likely to attract health, wealth and happiness. You glow and are rewarded. Your warmth, goodwill and confidence attract attention and you are able to attract riches.

The Moon can also be a strong driver when it comes to financial matters, especially psychologically and emotionally. Emotions and money are strongly linked. "Retail therapy" is commonly acknowledged as an antidote to a "down" day, yet managing emotions with material band-aids is rarely going to address the underlying forces. While an understanding of your own emotional nature is vital for self-acceptance it is not part of this report's purpose. In this section the Money report outlines how your Moon and your emotions can influence your spending habits. When it comes to money your Moon can either help or hinder your ability to successfully handle money matters. Also what does money mean for you? What emotional need does it satisfy? Do you see money as a means of freedom, or does it provide security? Does money represent love? Do you feel more loved when someone shares their resources? These are the types of questions to ask and which your Moon will help you understand.

When reading this report take the best traits from both your Sun and Moon Signs and combine them to help you understand your value system and your emotional needs when it comes to money. This helps you learn how you can best approach your own attitude to money, your spending habits and how to invest. If your Sun and Moon are in the same Zodiac Sign then you reinforce the message and you need to look to your Ascendant to see how to best move forward.

Your Ascendant is outlined as a beacon that points to your purpose in life. While money is an important component it is rarely the source of true happiness. Your Ascendant depicts how you can find purpose and meaning in your life. This helps you inject your material world with spiritual values. Health, wealth and happiness are all derived from living a worthy life. A meaningful life is one which incorporates spiritual values, not just monetary ones. True joy is often felt when you are living in sync with your soul's purpose. This report focuses on money and its place in your Birth Chart and life, but true meaning also comes from living true to yourself. Your Ascendant is a primary signpost which guides you to a life of true worth.

The Sun is in Scorpio

Scorpios are usually good with money. This is because you are intensely interested in all resources. It is not just your own personal income that absorbs you but also investments and other people's ability to help boost your resources. Therefore, stocks, bonds, annuities, inheritances, gold, money markets and other such wealth opportunities are also important. You are not interested in bank savings as you are more concerned to discover ways of making money work for you. Your possessions are not just goods, they are assets. You see most things as an asset in your life, or a liability. This can include the people in your life, but is particularly so in the material world. You may even dream of marrying someone rich. You value success in the material world. You may keep this side of your nature well hidden, but nevertheless it is true and you know it. Prestige in society equates with material wealth and it is actually the prestige that you value. Your biggest hurdle to achieving the wealth that you so desire is that you are unable to compromise in your youth. You would like to start at the top of the corporate ladder, but this is not always possible. Working your way to the top takes time and energy. Depending on other influences in your chart you are less or more successful at understanding the process. You also need to be wary of becoming disrespectful of other people's assets. Some Scorpios are highly emotional and artistic. The challenge then becomes how to attain material success in a field that may not offer high financial rewards. This requires some soul-searching. Your desires are strong, but what you do desire the most? Scorpios can often be found working in the financial markets, with money, property management or selling property. You could also find work supplying the resources for other people. Self-employment gives you more control over your income and assets and therefore, could appeal.

The Sun is in the 5th House

You certainly shine when it comes to creativity, fun and sheer pleasure in all that life has to offer. However, this placement of the Sun in the 5th House of your Birth Chart is not a strong indicator of monetary wealth. In fact, this placement can depict quite the opposite i.e. that you value artistic endeavours, creative projects and fun-filled activities more than monetary wealth. Life is for living. Depending on other aspects of your Birth Chart you may be a risk taker, a speculator, someone who loves nature, children, the arts, and fashion. If you do value money then it is likely to be as a vehicle that enables you to pursue your own talents, support other people's, purchase beautiful possessions or take part in pleasurable activities. Traditional astrologers state that this placement can mean gain from children, gifts, clothing, banquets, theatres, inns, sports and leisure activities. These are all likely to be areas of life that you enjoy with or without money. For instance, you may love reading. "Isn't it fun exploring the resources of a free library or perusing the shelves of a second hand book shop?" "Does one really have to purchase a new and shiny book?" In your case, the library and the second hand book shop make much more sense. Another person may prefer a shiny new cover and book and be prepared to pay the full cost. Colour, laughter, love, and new discoveries are likely to hold more meaning for you than ready cash, unless it falls easily into your hands and can give you more colour, laughter, love and new discoveries.

The Moon is in Aries

When the Moon is in the Zodiac Sign of Aries, it is similar to the Sun Sign although a little more challenging. You love to be first and in fact can sometimes be driven to be Number One. Sometimes you have difficulty holding back from saying what you feel. Diplomacy may not be your strong point. For this reason, you may seek employment in a position which involves working on your own projects, rather than in a team. You can be reactive to being told what to do if you do not respect those in authority. This can land you in hot water. Likewise, you can be impulsive in your spending habits. The good news is that if you have some other influences then you can be a highly successful executive earning a high salary and associated benefits. You could also be a self-employed millionaire. This is because you are a risk-taker. However, you need to also have common sense and an ability to show restraint and patience. Arrogance could be your downfall. Sometimes the political way is the best way in the short-term, rather than being direct. You call it direct. Others call it rude. You need other people's co-operation to help you achieve your financial and other goals. Even if you are a solitary inventor you need someone to patent and market your invention. You value freedom and the ability to explore new avenues. You need to be passionate about your line of work, and you certainly react to feeling like someone else's slave. Boredom is not your friend. For this reason, you can be rash when it comes to life, and to financial investments. You are the proverbial hare rather than the tortoise (as depicted in Aesop's Fable). Remember to take a moment to consider all of your options. If you have other favourable influences in your birth chart then you can really achieve your financial goals in a big way. Combined with other Signs this can be the Millionaire's chart. Think of Microsoft boss Bill Gates, who has an Aries Moon.

The Ascendant is in Cancer

Money is not to be confused with love. Caring for others is your major purpose in life. This could be caring for your own family and friends, extended family, pets, children or the elderly, or caring for humanity, or all of these. You're impressionable, tenacious, hospitable, sympathetic and moody. You've strong feelings, ranging from the most pure feelings of compassion to the most intense feelings of antipathy. On the positive side your life is motivated by the highest form of feelings motivating you to care for other people, and bringing both you and the other parties a sense of warmth and emotional satisfaction. However, on a negative note you're highly impressionable and your feelings may be misguided. You're sensitive and easily hurt, and can build a protective wall if you feel vulnerable. All of these traits indicate that you need to make sure that you do not equate love with money. Emotional security does not equal financial security. Your goal is life is to nurture emotions, relationships and your own spiritual goals, not money-making ventures. Take time to notice how little importance money has in your life when you are truly feeling safe and happy. Then take a moment to think about how no amount of money really eases the troubled times. True worth comes from the intimacy and the experiences that you share with your loved ones. If you would like to focus on a positive affirmation connected to money then with your Cancer Ascendant you could use this one from "Creating Money – Keys to Abundance" by Sanaya Roman and Duane Packer "I bring love and a positive attitude to everything I do".

YOUR RELATIONSHIP WITH MONEY

"Money is usually attracted, not pursued."
Jim Rohn, American Entrepreneur

Venus

Intrinsic to Venus is beauty. During her perfectly symmetrical cycle she is brightly visible in morning and evening skies at different times. Her disappearance out of the western skies and resurrection in the east led the ancients to see her as a dual goddess of both heaven and earth. Venus is pleasure and beauty, both in body and in spirit.

In astrological tradition Venus symbolises what is attractive, pleasurable, beneficial and advantageous. Her heavenly and earthy aspects shine through her connection with the Zodiac Signs Libra and Taurus. In her earthy Taurean domain she embodies the values and resources of the material world representing what you find attractive as well as your ability to be attractive. Venus is the law of attraction placing value on what is worthwhile; therefore, energetically attracting what is of substance. Being aligned with resources, treasures, fortunes and ornaments, Venus became associated with money as a commodity of exchange. On an economic level Venus symbolises money, as the unit of trade. Venus is relationship-orientated; hence money implies exchange and trade. Money invites us to forge a relationship with what we find attractive, pleasurable and worthy, not only materially, but psychologically and spiritually as well. Venus's two sides make a whole; in her spirited and aesthetic side, she needs a soulful relationship with the material world. In this way she represents an inner sense of worth and value that yearns to be appreciated, honoured and respected. In psychological jargon this is your self-esteem, your inner worth, innate values and authentic merit. Venus symbolises the process of becoming worthy and deserving to feel abundant, pleased and prosperous.

Being the goddess of sexuality and love, Venus also focuses on relating. Venus themes in relationship centre on shared values, feeling loved and appreciated, pleasure, affection and sensuality. Therefore, Venus's archetypal pattern often gets entangled in issues of both love and money, as popular song lyrics often illustrate. Are diamonds really a girl's best friend? Is it true that money can't buy me love? Can money compensate or substitute for love? Venus' rulership over money is multidimensional: on the material level it is cash and currency, stocks and bonds, funds, investments, assets, capital, diamonds and gold. On other levels it is your personal values and inner aesthetics. On a deeper soulful stratum it is in your self-acceptance and self-love where money's taproot finds its sustenance.

Following is a reflection on the Zodiac Sign of your Venus in your Birth Chart including what you might be attracted to and what you attract to you. What are your money patterns, issues and strengths? Venus too symbolises your authentic attitudes to deeply-held personal values, internal worth, self-esteem and your capacity to love. Ironically it is this capacity to love and give freely that is the key to the lock on your money vault. Let's consider your Venus sign as a metaphor for your personal law of attraction and your innate relationship and attitudes towards money and values.

Venus is in Scorpio

You are probably quite private about personal matters or at least things that are deeply important to you. But there are two things that get your attention fairly immediately, well three but we're not talking about sex. One is love and the other is money. Why? Because both are transforming by nature and you value experiences that challenge and change you. You come alive in crises and emergencies. Therefore, rather than subconsciously plotting a monetary crisis, recognise the power and strength you have to overcome obstacles and become successful where others have given up. Ironically it is often what others discard or reject where you can thrive. You are able to see value in things others cannot, as you have an ability to see underneath the surface of things. Therefore, if something has a hidden value you are able to detect that. Similarly, you are able to see through false values and inflated prices; therefore, you do well in sectors where a high level of perception and discernment is necessary. When you begin to trust your instincts and value your depth of insight you begin to attract the opportunities and resources that help you become prosperous.

While you may not necessarily be a strong feeling type, when you enter into either an intimate business or love relationship you are confronted with in-depth feelings, either in yourself or your partner. Having the ability to connect at a deep level of your being, trust becomes a relational issue and there are many ways to defend against this vulnerability. Money and sex are intimate resources but they could also be used to guard yourself against hurt or to settle a score. Money can control, but this is not power. Ironically you have the power when you are most vulnerable; therefore, you are often at your best or most lucrative when everything is honest and out in the open. You value integrity, truthfulness and emotional honesty and when you are able to act from these values, you prosper.

Agatha Christie's Venus in Scorpio valued mystery and quite literally it brought her financial reward. Whether on the Nile, the Orient Express or a hotel in Devon, Christie's characters were exposed, their secrets unravelled and their intentions revealed. Mystery has a great appeal and you may be attracted to it in your profession. Money too has its mysteries and valuing its ambiguity and uncertainty allows you to better handle it. You are probably accustomed to the temporary madness that money can bring, either through a passing obsession or compulsion with it. This is not always connected to a lack of money either; sometimes it can be an abundance of money. So, in essence it is not money that is the issue, but perhaps the dissatisfaction with materialism, as it can disconnect you from the deeper longings of the soul. Money can stir an intense need to be more deeply connected with your values. Therefore, it is wise to recognise that money can be both a distraction, but also a partner to your deeper values; it takes a sense of integrity and self-honesty to be able to discriminate which is which. Oscar Wilde suggested something similar when he said: "Ordinary riches can be stolen; real riches cannot. In your soul are infinitely precious things that cannot be taken from you". When you honour your deeper values, money becomes a more stable and secure commodity.

Your attitude to money is therapeutic. It is what can improve your situation. But first you need to be brutally honest with yourself about what changes you need to make. Your personal law of attraction suggests that when you are ready to change, then the money you need will be there. If money is not available to make the adjustment you feel is necessary, then reflect on whether it is truly required. Perhaps it is not the right time or the right change for you. You do have the power to attract the resources that are needed, but the secret is to be as open and honest about what is really required. You also prosper through relationships where emotional honesty and intimacy are valued. And when you value the depth of your own ability to be intimate and open, then you attract both money and love.

YOUR PERSONAL INCOME

"The art of living easily as to money is to pitch your scale of living one degree below your means."
Sir Henry Taylor, English Dramatist and Poet

The Second House

Astrological tradition has always associated the 2nd House with money and the accumulation of assets. When astrologers are asked questions like 'will I be rich?' and 'how will I make money?' the 2nd House of the Horoscope is the first place to consult. Therefore, it is an important consideration in this report.

The 2nd House suggests material riches and also innate resources that can be developed and valued. These are the resources of our personality such as our unique strengths, skills and talents which can be exchanged for income or other rewards. Wealth is multifaceted and not only about money; for some it may be health, peace, family, security. Having found the wellspring of our talent, wealth follows.

This section also describes what we invest with value or what we appreciate and like. This may or may not be money. Psychologically this is the sphere where self-esteem and personal values are shaped by your early experiences. Self-worth, the impact of family values, the substance and significance you place upon your efforts, income received or value returned are all important to varying degrees. What is pleasant? In our post-modern world what is pleasurable often requires money; but another form of pleasure is experienced through apprenticeship and mastery of our skills and talents, not necessarily through economic management.

Included in this report is a portrait of the Zodiac Sign on your 2nd House cusp and what astrologers call its Ruler. The description of your ruling planet in its House adds another key to unlocking your attitude to money and also whether or not you place importance on money or elsewhere. This ruler is unique in each horoscope.

As far as money is concerned what is most important is whether or not you have a planet in the 2nd House. These 2nd House planets reveal your earning style and suggest how you earn your living or your patterns and relationship to money and possessions. You can liken the planets in the 2nd House to the importance that you place on money, the role that it plays in your life and perhaps the complexes you have about money.

Jupiter is in the 2nd House

Planets in the 2nd house are forces that shape your worth and value and help you to understand your innate resources. Forging an alliance with this energy can create a supportive and positive approach to your own sense of worth. Jupiter, the largest planet in our solar system, brings its generous and open-hearted spirit into the realm of your finances and earning capacity. Jupiter promises a lot but sometimes does not deliver. There are big ideas but sometimes this is just inflation. On one hand this placement suggests a positive and confident approach to making a living, as well as an ability to be financially prosperous. Yet on the other hand this might reveal a sense of entitlement and superiority. Finding the right balance is the key to being successful; use your optimism, but be careful not to be taken in by exaggerated prospects about becoming rich.

With Jupiter in your 2nd House it is also important to consider the way that you spend money. This might be in big spurts or lashing out on something very pricey. Perhaps it is best to take stock about what is valuable; for instance, travel would be a good investment for you. Spending money on learning something meaningful or developing your career prospects would also be of value. Money allows you to stretch yourself beyond the limits that were there at the beginning and this is what the value of money is really: to take you beyond the boundaries of your upbringing.

Lady luck is often considered to be Jupiter's partner, therefore, in the 2nd House this suggests that you too might be partnered by wealth. At the very least this might suggest that there are more times when the wheel of fortune is rising than falling. Again, that is the promise; therefore, you need to take advantage of the good times, as these times can be very lucrative for you. It is during thriving times that you can build your wealth. One of your great assets is your faith and optimism and when you project this positive attitude onto money and earning your living it works its spell for you. You have a Midas touch when needed and are able to turn around difficult situations to make them work for you. But remember Midas; everything he touched turned to gold. When it came time to eat and drink food and water also turned golden and he was unable to survive this way. Moderation and a sense of reflection are necessary.

When you feel dispirited or depressed you may over invest or become blinded to realistic possibilities that exist. It is important to differentiate between when you are in touch with the authentic sense of possibilities and when you are inflated. Therefore, take an inventory of your most resourceful assets. Most probably these will be your spontaneity, insight, vision, faith in the future, optimism, generosity and enthusiasm. These and your confidence and leadership abilities will pay off. Just acting successful and being confident are the forerunners to actual success.

Jupiter is associated with philosophies, ideologies and concepts. Therefore, money-making projects involved in expanding people's understanding of themselves and the world around them or administering to individual's religious and soul-needs could be successful for you. You may feel drawn to educating and inspiring others to a greater understanding or feel the need to work in travel or dealing with international concerns. Your great skill is in sharing knowledge with others and there may be many ways that this may manifest in your earning a living. The search for meaning is entwined with making a living and it is very important that you feel your job is meaningful and purposeful or you lose spirit. When you lose this spirit and optimism you also lose touch with your innate resources and capacity to earn a good living. Therefore, meaning in what you do is optimum. Jupiter represents the quest for meaning and in the corporate world money and human values can become confused. Therefore, it is worthwhile reflecting on the significance of money and what value it has in your life.

With this placement we might be inclined to say you could be a prophet of profits. In other words, you could be successful at being the advertising manager of a bank or financial institution. Or you might do well at educating people about their investments or coaching others how to use the markets. You have a wide range of resources but ultimately you need to feel inspired and find meaning in how you make money. There are two kinds of profits in your life. One comes from being engaged and happy in what you are doing; the other from searching for something meaningful.

Uranus is in the 2nd House

For you wealth and independence are entwined and when you are self-reliant you feel affluent. With Uranus in your 2nd House it is important to be aware that your approach to money and possessions could be quite unconventional, as this planet is known for its defiance and nonconformity. This planet also signifies unpredictability and surprises. Therefore, this might suggest sudden changes of fortune or a feeling of being out of control when it comes to money.

Uranus in your 2nd House reveals your attitudes towards money and possessions. Again, this may be unusual or at least out of the ordinary, as your attitudes to material assets and financial security may fluctuate and change considerably. Since Uranus likes to go against the grain, this suggests that whatever the accepted consensus is towards money, yours will be different. Another feature of Uranus in the 2nd is that you might also unexpectedly receive money. It is important to consider your monetary attitudes as they might be unconsciously contributing to financial worries. Ironically you need money to help you feel independent; therefore, it is in your best interest to find ways to make this possible.

Reflect on original ways to make money. You have an inventive streak, which is a resource. Discover how this might work best for you. Ultimately you have the ability to be detached from the material world and this is important as this helps you feel relaxed and confident that you have enough resources. This also means that you may enjoy earning your money as a contractor, or in a self-employed capacity rather than as an employee.

It is important to consider how you might bring your unique skills and specialised talents to making money in order to feel more comfortable on the unpredictable wheel of fortune. Your question might be: how can I maximise my return on my distinctive talents to feel financially secure? Perhaps you might forge your own independent route choosing to make your living in an unconventional way. Or are you destined to make money in an environment that is futuristic, cutting-edge or ahead of its time. Yet, another possibility may be that you might earn your income in a humanitarian way, working to improve the human condition or the state of the earth. Whatever road you take to earning your income, it needs to be a road less travelled.

Finding your own distinctive path that has not been trampled upon suggests that you will need to tap into your uniqueness and inventiveness. You are ingenious and can use your imagination to forge your way. You can become a unique specialist in your field. Work-wise you are well suited to fields of endeavour that are unusual, ones that have not even been thought of yet. Therefore, you are comfortable being on the edge of change, helping forge new directions and advancements. A career in cutting-edge technology might suit especially if you are helping revolutionise attitudes to work or helping create solutions for the future. Or politics, if you can bear it, is another sphere where you might use your vision and your protest to create change. Revolutionising the human experience is favourable to this astrological statement. Therefore, whether you are attracted to science or the liberal arts to earn money, it is your need to help advance human understanding and equality that is the valuable asset. You have altruistic, ingenious and intelligent resources that seek expression and support. When you find these, you find your wealth.

Pluto is in the 2nd House

In ancient Greek plutus meant wealth and it is this association with riches that was transferred onto Pluto. But these riches were not what was in the bank but buried underneath. As lord of the underworld he ruled over the vast domain of resources buried below the earth. Psychologically the deity reminds us of the wealth in our own underworld, the untapped resources and riches awaiting release. Literally it might mean the riches excavated from mining, sunken treasure, archaeological ruins or what might have been awarded to you in other's wills. Being in your 2nd House Pluto suggests that you have innate wealth and power to be mined. First and foremost, it is necessary to know what feeds any desires for wealth and capital, as money will confront you with deep issues in yourself. Money might be therapeutic in a way in that it forces you to assess what is of value and meaning to you on the deepest levels. Pluto shapes your sense of worth and value and suggests your best assets are your honesty and integrity.

One of your best resources is your ability to work therapeutically with crisis and change. Part of this pattern is that you will do well in emergencies where you are called upon to go with the 'gut' feelings. And this is your best approach to wealth creation. You will do well when you use your own deeper instincts about what is of value. Anything connected to alterations and renovations, therapeutic interventions, cycles, endings and getting to the underlying truth is a boon to you.

No doubt you have a gut instinct for the right share to buy or a feeling about the best house to purchase. But when can you trust this and when is it a time to be wary? Income could come through mysterious ways like an inheritance. Vocationally professions involving research, medical or psychotherapeutic work, crisis management and consulting or with any underground link could also be lucrative. What is important to know is that you have depth perception, integrity and honesty. When you are able to feel that this are in alignment then it is time to invest. Perhaps the greatest asset you have is the ability to trust yourself in times of decision making about resources and to know that you have made the right choices. Over time you can eliminate what is not necessary; however, you will also bring the hidden treasure to the surface.

When you invest in the things that are of worth to you, not others, then you will understand how you are able to see value where others are unable. What might be discarded or worthless to someone else may have the seeds of fortune for you. Wealth is a subjective experience and while others may objectify money and possessions, to you prosperity engages you at a deeper level. What may be invisible to them is often a great asset to you. Remember Pluto had his invisible helmet that he wore when he came to the surface so he would not be seen. His myth tells us that he only surfaced to obtain what he desired or to seek healing for what has been damaged. Like Pluto you need to bring your intentions to the surface when you are passionately interested in something you value.

You may fear losing your money or be haunted by images of not having. But these are the ways you confront your own sense of worth. At these times you are forced to look deeply into yourself to find what it is you truly possess. It is important to know that these feelings are not prophetic but psychological, forcing you to confront your own sense of worth and find the resources that promote a valued sense of self. While you have the knack of transforming what others have discarded or undervalued to make it an object of worth you often struggle to find the gold in your own shadow.

One recurring pattern with your 2nd House Pluto is that money and accumulation of assets confronts one's sense of worth and power. The question then might be: Does money reflect my worthiness and sense of success in the world? Another pattern is that the accumulation or loss of money is enmeshed with crisis and all or nothing situations. In other words, you may unconsciously find yourself close to losing your assets which drives you into rebuilding your resources. In the process you find out how resourceful and powerful you are. However, you do not need to lose everything to know that you have the power to restore and rebuild your capital or that in essence you are truly wealthy. You have a powerful sense of wealth creation which will work for you when you recognise that you would like to be more critically involved in your work and that what you do is valuable.

2nd House Cusp is in Leo

Leo, on the gateway to your 2nd House of resources, suggests that your personal creativity, charisma and self-expression play a leading role in feeling satisfied and earning a living. Part of the task of this combination is to value your personal resources and yourself. This may be inharmonious to your personality, which might be self conscious, shy, reserved or prefers to be behind the scenes. However destiny suggests that making a living and feeling satisfied vocationally might draw your personality to the front of the stage. Whether that might be in the role of educator, spokesperson, trainer, healer or entrepreneur there is something about you that makes a difference. What makes your contribution unique is not as simple as following a formula, a map or a job description. It is your own brand and creative passion that makes the difference and how do you put a price on that?

Qualities necessary to maximise your resources are confidence and self-expression. Vocationally you are in a position to capitalise on entrepreneurial projects, technological advancements, educational reforms or corporate changes if you are able to find your own creative expression and confidence. You need to stand out and be seen. If you are self employed or an independent practitioner, then pride in what you do, warmth and generosity are the assets that will secure and enrich your place in the world. You need to feel conformable selling your product, publicising your talents and displaying your creativity. As an artist you need to promote yourself. Innately your generosity of spirit, your geniality and charisma are great assets you bring to your tasks.

Psychologically it is imperative to come to know the self and what it desires. If not you might be prone to inflating your sense of self and becoming out of touch with what you do; equally you might underestimate your sense of creativity and feel undervalued. Sometimes money is the barometer that mirrors back your sense of self-worth; when you are feeling creative and confident money flows, but when you are mean and self effacing, money seems hard to come by.

Earning a living can be fun therefore, it is valuable to tap into your playfulness and spontaneity and recognise that your work is a playground where you express yourself. Work and fun need to be aligned for you to feel good about yourself. Once you find the rhythm of being engaged in the creative self, you find joy and pleasure in what you do. Therefore, a healthy attitude to money is that it is a game and you find the way to enjoy playing it. This enjoyment is innate in you when you find the courage and heart to support your talent. With Leo on the 2nd House cusp, when you hit the jackpot, you will probably get the biggest prize! It is worth the gamble.

Since Leo is on your 2nd House cusp, the opposite Zodiac Sign Aquarius rules your 8th House. This House polarity in the horoscope symbolises the difference between mine and ours, or your attitudes and reactions to sharing resources with others. The 2nd House is your bank account, but the 8th is the joint account. With Leo on the 2nd it is important that you have enough money and resources to invest in the things that are important to you. Through intimate and business relationships you learn how to be more open and liberated about money. Resources are not only materialistic. With this combination value lies in your unique creativity and self-expression and how intimate others can help you to disseminate and network this talent.

Ruler of the 2nd House is The Sun ...and The Sun is in the 5th House

The Sun is the eternal metaphor for the king, the sovereign and the ruler and in your case this influences your money sphere. Here the Sun urges to be financially masterful in this area of your life. As the first representative of the king, your father's relationship with money might be something you could reflect upon when assessing your attitudes to money. How might you have unconsciously absorbed some of his ways of thinking, for richer or poorer? The Sun identifies this sphere as being important to financial achievements and seeks to be in control. Therefore, the 5th House of your Horoscope is intimately bound up with how you recognise the importance of money in your life and how you are controlled or influenced by its nature. How might the Sun shine its beacon of light on monetary concerns and financial matters for you?

The Sun is in the home of speculation and play, so money is not only a vital aspect of your identity and self-expression, but essentially linked to play. You might think of money creatively, see it as a game or be very keen on speculating about the chances of winning and losing. Yes, finances are intimately wound around your sense of being so how might you best be in control of that and not the other way around. The Sun can burn itself out or even be eclipsed and this happens when the instincts and feelings are out of alignment with the ego. Inflation ends in deflation and false gold has no value. Identify the real worth and speculate on that. You perform well and successfully when the authentic values are invested in. Once you are aligned with the inner values you can speculate and play the game of money without feeling burnt.

SHARING YOUR INCOME

"Money, it turned out, was exactly like sex, you thought of nothing else if you didn't have it and thought of other things if you did".

James Baldwin, American novelist and social critic

The Eighth House

While the 8th House is the House of sharing, astrologers call this the House of STD: sex, taxes and death. Another version of the key initials STD and this house is "sexually transmitted debt". The 8th House seems to be where love and trust get entangled with money. When the seal of trust is broken the joint finances are too! So it is important to look at this area of the Horoscope to consider how you best deal with money when others are involved. This could mean your family of origin, your intimate partner or business partner, even your bank and financial advisor. The 8th House is opposite the 2nd House and therefore forms the natural polarity between what is mine and what is ours. The 2nd House could be thought of as your personal worth, your cash flow on a daily, weekly, monthly or yearly basis. The 8th House then could be considered your overall worth, the dam or the reservoir of your full value. Its mystique is in the depth of its values.

The ancient astrologers' view of the 8th House was mainly about death and questions concerning loss especially gains from loss, such as inheritances or debts. Death and debts are still linked together in our words such as mortgage and amortise. While the modern usage of amortise is a gradual payment of debt, in earlier usage it was withholding property after death. While mort refers to death, amor refers to love. This is the mysterious 8th House amalgam between death, debt and love. A more contemporary outlook scrutinises the 8th House for the link between intimacy and prosperity as well as the capacity for sharing resources. In an emotional sense the 8th House is about comfort with intimacy and this becomes a barometer of your ability to share money with those you love.

As the House of inheritance, it is the territory where you claim your familial legacy either psychologically, emotionally or financially. Unearthing your ancestral inheritance may not be as straightforward as you would wish, but the astrological nature of your 8th House will help you to reflect on your familial past and the attitudes towards money and love that you have inherited. The 8th House has also been traditionally associated with the landscape of the underworld. This of course is metaphoric of the unseen inheritances and legacies from the past; hence we might imaginatively think of the 8th House as where we could communicate with the dead. This sphere is where we encounter some skeletons in the family closet that might help reclaim our legacy. It is wise to remember that in antiquity the underworld was the source of buried treasure. Regent of the underworld was Pluto, the god of riches; hence the 8th House is also an area in the horoscope of hidden wealth.

Hidden in this house might also be family issues and legacies about money, wills and desires. Lurking in the familial past may be motifs such as emotional manipulation through money, debt, disputes regarding inheritances, the loss of family money or a deep-seated attitude towards financial control. What was the attitude towards debt or borrowing money that you inherited? What were the familial attitudes towards sharing resources? The 8th House is the place where the two sides of the family merge into one. Psychologically the 8th House reveals the capacity for or the lack of familial intimacy and closeness; therefore, planets here will not only describe the family inheritance, but secret alliances and taboos in the family. Interred in the 8th House are the familial gains and losses which are passed down through the generations. These gains and losses might be financial as in monetary bequests and inheritances or a familial story of debt. In many cases the gains and losses are emotionally based. The Zodiac Sign on the cusp of the 8th House is the gateway to this intimate area and as such is important in considering how you access this part of yourself. Ultimately the question is how much do you trust yourself to make the right decision in love and money?

As a barometer of closeness, the 8th House refers to the degree of parental intimacy that was experienced growing up. You observe your parents' trust of one another with money and resources. How were they able to share what they had with one another on and what were the primal patterns that you first felt in terms of sharing emotionally and lovingly? Arguments about money are often never really about money but the sense of feeling unloved, unacknowledged or unmet. The template of how you might share your personal resources with others you love is set down early in the atmosphere of the family and affects your feelings of financial trust in adult life. The attachment, emotional security and parental issues of your early life, yet not resolved, will be prone to being re-experienced in an adult way through intimate relationships. You also 'marry' into or relate to your partner's psychological, emotional and financial composition. The will and testament of those who have passed exert their influence on the emotional well-being of those in the present and issues concerning legacies, will, inheritance, shared resources and family trusts are all part of this terrain. Wills of the 8th House also refer to the will of those who have past and still exert emotional and financial control.

The 8th House is a house of mystery and mastery in being true to your deepest self while participating in the world. It depicts how the currents that flow within the financial world, the economic cycles and seasons influence the money market and you. In the 8th House you can see your ability to tune into subtle energies, and to act with integrity and utilise them for your own and others better good. From the perspective of money the 8th House will help you reflect on your buried treasures, your capacity to share and enjoy the pleasures of life with others, your legacies and inheritances as well as the patterns that either keep you indebted to others or able to be resourceful in relationship. Much of the 8th House is a mystery, a secret even unto yourself but this report helps you try to understand what this compelling place means for you.

Chiron is in the 8th House

Chiron is not categorized as a planet, but contemporary astrologers use this celestial maverick to understand a depth of the human experience not revealed by any of the other planetary energies. Chiron represents what is disenfranchised and marginal, what is outside the system.

When you cross the threshold into the 8th House of your Birth Chart you enter familial and ancestral ground where attitudes towards money from the past may have left their mark on the present. Buried underneath this house might be family questions, issues and legacies about wealth, wills and money desires. With Chiron here you may have felt the familial pressures around money and sharing resources, as if there were never enough funds or capital, even when there was. Familial attitudes towards money in the past may have resulted in schisms or separations in the family; therefore, it is important not to be caught in this undertow from the past.

Some of the ancestral wounds constellated around money may have their roots in emotional manipulation through wealth or lack of it, debt, disputes regarding inheritances, the loss of family money or deep-seated feelings towards financial control. Chiron in the 8th certainly does not suggest a lack of wealth or resource, but does suggest that the approach you inherited towards sharing yourself economically or emotionally may have been wounded through the familial attitudes and atmosphere around money and material goods. Therefore, it is important to reflect on what attitudes towards money you have inherited and how these may still contribute to your feelings of lack. Reflect on the attitude towards debt or borrowing money that you inherited? What was the familial approach towards sharing resources? How can you feel you can heal these patterns that started before you; therefore, are not inherently yours, but vestiges of the past?

The 8th House is the place where the two sides of your family merge into one. Psychologically the 8th House reveals the capacity for or the lack of familial intimacy and closeness; therefore, planets here will not only describe the family inheritance, but secret alliances and taboos in the family. Interred in the 8th house are the familial gains and losses which are passed down. These gains and losses might be financial as in monetary bequests and inheritances or a familial story of debt. In many cases the gains and losses are emotionally based which have damaged the family's capacity to feel resourceful and deserving of wealth.

Chiron's legacy may have been affected in a variety of ways; however, the underlying symptoms would be due to familial displacement and upheavals. Perhaps emigration, divorce, separation and bereavement may have contributed to emotional and financial losses with the family. In the 8th House Chiron's felt experiences of being estranged or disenfranchised enter intimate relationships to be heard and healed. This could also be experienced through the partner's wounds. No matter which partner exposes the pain and suffering, intimacy is where healing can occur. The relationship may be marginal, outside tradition and unconventional, yet it offers hope and solace to others. A big part of the healing process is in sharing the emotional pain and psychological fears around intimacy and money, as in naming the source of the wound it can be healed.

Trust is an important dimension of the 8th House, one of the more difficult yet important virtues we encounter through exchange with others. For you trust is a moral value. While you may have been wounded though placing your trust in the wrong people, you are also healed through finding those who trust you and who invest in you with their intimate stories and share their resources. These may be others from different walks of life, those outside the system and with different belief; you learn to trust in those who are different. Of course, the family attitudes concerning trust echo every time you invest in someone and something else, share your resources or go into debt for something you value. So with Chiron in the 8th you learn to trust your own instincts and feelings even though they may be very different from your family's.

Underpinning Chiron in the 8th is the healing recognition that your attitudes towards wealth, money and intimacy may be very different to those of your friends and family. Rather than feeling this as a wound you are able to be liberated and unique in the way you choose to trust and share in the world and its wealth.

8th House Cusp is in Aquarius

As the key that unlocks your 8th House, Aquarius often opens the door onto an unexpected realm or turn of events in your intimate relationships. Having an urge for stability and commitment in relationship you may have found that the breaking of trust or an emotional betrayal has initiated you into a greater understanding of yourself. First you have come to accept that while you need emotional security and desire long-term commitments, nothing is guaranteed or permanent. Second you have come to recognise the power of your own individuality and choices. Knowing these things allows you greater freedom and selection in your intimate relationships and how you can find security both emotionally and financially.

It is never an easy task to find the equilibrium between independence and togetherness, nor the symmetry between sharing resources and valuing one's own assets. It seems you may have inherited this archetypal impasse; therefore, how was this handed in the past? When there were emotional or financial difficulties was the solution just to separate, or was there a willingness to try and negotiate the difficulty. There may be schisms in the past that have never healed over the wound that keeps you feeling a lack of trust in intimate relationships. If it is a matter of trust, then it is important to know that it is the trust and honesty in yourself and your intentions that will help you see clearly.

It may be interesting to reflect on what you have been separated from in terms of your inheritance and how you best can move forward. The task you have inherited seems to be how you can best claim your independence and individuality within a shared intimate space without having to separate or push anyone away to get it. Perhaps it may be easier to sort out the financial entanglements before the emotional ones. What do you feel is the best solution to your financial freedom without endangering your emotional security? It might be best to be as separate or perhaps distinct into your financial arrangements with others as possible. It is important to acknowledge that you are different in your emotional and financial needs, but this is not the same as being disengaged or disconnected. The trick seems to be how you are able to manage your independent needs with a committed relationship. You work well in a committed union whether that is personal or professional, yet there is the need to feel separate enough to make crucial decisions and judgements in your own way without fearing that you have disappointed or pushed someone away.

One of the ways to avoid the conundrum is not to become emotionally or financially entangled with others or be too busy to deal with the contentious issues. However it is in dealing with the complexity of the issues that you will find your freedom and separateness. In avoiding the difficult feelings in relationship you miss the chance for resolution and liberation. Therefore, rather than avoiding intimacy due to the fears of betrayal or hurt, it is worthwhile investing in your own sense of authentic independence and individuality, not from a defensive posture, but as a pro-active position to feeling secure in yourself. Before any financial or emotional union you need to feel separate enough in your own attitudes and opinions to enter into a commitment. You do not need to enter intimate unions professionally or personally like everyone else; therefore, you need to be aware of your unique needs in any contractual or financial arrangement.

The mystery about your finances is that when you are able to feel independent of other's needs and free from the pressure of following someone else's program you are astute at handling your own money.

Ruler of the 8th House is Saturn ...and Saturn is in the 5th House

When Saturn is associated with your 8th House it usually means that you can achieve your financial goals through hard work and application. In other words, wealth does not come easily to you but you can eventually grow a healthy portfolio. Unless you have other indicators of great wealth you have to use your wits, common sense and careful planning whenever you are associated with investments, bank loans, joint partnership projects and any money that comes from outside sources. Once again, unless you have other positive influences in your Birth Chart, you are unlikely to inherit large sums of money, or property. Your wealth is gained largely through your own efforts. The good news is the planet Saturn is associated with wealth because it indicates a sound sense of timing, an understanding of cycles, and an ability to achieve concrete results. Therefore, wealth and riches of lasting value can be yours in the end. Although it does not guarantee success, your reputation and the respect of others can stand you in good stead for reaping the rewards of your labour. Likewise, if you sully your reputation or fritter away your income you are likely to suffer the consequences. If you take a responsible approach to investing the money that you earn then you can reap the rewards. When Saturn is also placed in the 5th House of your Birth Chart this can indicate that you lack the confidence to make appropriate good use of your income. Early childhood experiences can lead to you feeling inferior to your peers. Your life may have been tough, for reasons beyond your control, and therefore you missed out on the playful side of life. As you mature you are likely to shoulder responsibilities but you may struggle to benefit financially from your efforts. Once again while others are out playing, you are working. There may be a tendency to compensate for your experiences through expensive joy rides, or gambling. You need to be wary of accumulating debt. As you mature, particularly if you bear children, you are likely to gain more enjoyment from shouldering responsibilities and accumulating some assets. In some cases, this can indicate that you are able to earn a living through your own creative efforts, or with children.

YOUR FORTUNE

"I have always believed, and I still believe, that whatever good or bad fortune may come our way we can always give it meaning and transform it into something of value."

Hermann Hesse, Novelist, Poet and Painter

The Part of Fortune

Fortune has come to mean money and wealth; yet in the ancient world it referred to chance or luck. Both are interconnected. In your Horoscope you will have a "Part of Fortune" an astrological point which suggests some clues about your quality and share of fortune be that chance or capital. One of astrology's first authorities Ptolemy suggested that the Part of Fortune was primary to the circumstances that regulate the 'fortune of wealth'.

The Part of Fortune is constructed from the three highly significant positions of the Sun, Moon and Ascendant that were discussed in the first section. In this section all three are merging to create an astrological image connected to our personal fortune. This report uses the formula dependent on whether you are born at night or if you were born during the day when the Sun was above the horizon. The Part of Fortune is an amalgam of body, soul and spirit. The Ascendant represents the physical environment and your levels of vitality, it is a primary gauge for well-being both in terms of health and wealth. Your Sun represents vital force, the spirit of health and heart, while your Moon symbolises the emotional and soulful aspects of being secure in the world. Since the alchemy of all three create the Part of Fortune, it came to be seen as an image of well-being, connection, security and being well-placed in the world. This was considered to be prosperity; an ability to be supported by the world and access its abundant resources.

The Part of Fortune is also known as the Lot of Fortune. In ancient Greece, the concept for fate suggested a lot, a portion or what we were allotted in the lottery of life. The Greek word for fate was 'moira' and the Moirai were the three weavers of fate; those who measured, allocated and cut the threads of one's life. With this lot, the ancient astrologers recognised that the tapestry created by weaving the three threads of the Sun, Moon and Ascendant together would be fortunate. To the Romans, Fortuna was chance and she spun the Wheel of Fortune. This wheel reminds us not only of the wheel of the zodiac, but the natural cycles and rhythms of life. Fortune is not static but cyclical by nature; hence the Part of Fortune becomes a powerful symbol in your chart that points to your lot on the wheel of fortune. In a contemporary way the placement of the Part of Fortune is where you honour and petition the goddess of chance and acknowledge your share of fortune.

As an ancient symbol in a contemporary context its placement in the Horoscope measures prosperity or where you align with the seed potential of your fortune. Its sign position will help you amplify innate qualities that are destined at times to be prosperous, while its house position will locate the setting to focus on to increase your chances in the lottery of life.

The Part of Fortune is in Aquarius

With the Part of Fortune in Aquarius, the best chances for prosperity come when you are in contact with that inner sense of emotional freedom and space. When you are free from the constraints of a conventional lifestyle and daring enough to do your own thing, then you are in a much better position to feel prosperous. But it is not freedom from others that you seek, but more the lack of restrictions that open up free expression and inventiveness. Therefore, you thrive in an open playing field, in progressive environments where technology creates possibilities or in democratic forums where the focus is on equal rights for all. You are fortunate when you are able to tap your bright and ingenious side, and unregimented enough to see where that leads. Your fortune lies in the possibilities of the future and you are moving towards that.

Having an Aquarian flavour, your Part of Fortune suggests that your affluence is entwined with the wealth of the larger community. How can you feel prosperous when others in your immediate community are not? Therefore, there are two very important strategies to consider. First, until you feel wealthy and prosperous, it is best to be as detached as possible from the lack of fortune you see around you. It is in striving for your own growth that you will instinctually help others. Secondly, when you are resourceful and well-off, then this is the time that you can be philanthropic. It is important to know that your destiny is part of a global one; therefore, you can take advantage of collective movements for your own gains. Part of your fortune is that you can read the trends before they become fully developed and use this skill to your advantage. Saturn rules your lot and it knows where the time is right to take advantage of maximising the potential of the situation. It is in that sense of timing, reading the signs and being available to imminent opportunities when your fortunes on the wheel begin to rise.

The Part of Fortune is in the 8th House

The 8th House is where your Part of Fortune is placed suggesting that you may need to descend below the surface of things to find the appropriate processes that unravel the threads which connect you to your wealth. Literally this might suggest unseen resources like oil, minerals, gas. Since this is also a place where money is exchanged with others, gains are made through honest and clear contractual agreements, sound financial management and reliable partners. Metaphorically fortune is buried inside the integrity of your inner and private life. This is the natural house of inheritance and inheriting generally suggests that something has ended or someone has died. While your lot here may not always signify a monetary legacy, it does suggest that your birthright is to gain from what has been passed on, unfinished by others or bequeathed to you. You are fortunate as you know the deep secret that what ends is reborn in a new cycle. While there may be grief in an ending, you certainly gain by renewing, remodelling and transforming what has been left to you by others.

The 8th House is where you exchange resources with others. With the Part of Fortune here you can profit from your involvement with others when there is a straightforward and trustworthy partnership. When the relationship has trust and integrity it blossoms. Even if it ends in an honest way, there are gains. Again it may not be monetary, but it is emotional. And when there is deep healing through sincere and truthful interchange then you mine deeper resources that lead you to prosperity. Since this is the house of other people's money it is wise to reflect on how much debt you need to be prosperous: you will gain through borrowing capital to fund your business, your home or worthwhile investments, not for monetary gain but for emotional security. Even though you may not suspect it there is a legacy that you will inherit and gain from.

CONCLUSION

"Someone is sitting in the shade today because someone planted a tree a long time ago"
Warren Buffett, American Business Magnate

Once upon a time, monks entering religious service were required to take a vow of poverty. Even though the Church was far from impoverished, this vow was designed to turn the initiate's gaze away from the acquisition of possessions to participation in a communal and spiritual life. Christian teaching suggested it was easier for a camel to squeeze through the eye of a needle than a moneyed man to get into heaven. From this religious viewpoint it was believed that money corrupts and detracts from salvation. Infatuation with riches was considered diametrically opposed to the religious impulse. In the Christian era, the marketplace and the church were seen to be at odds with one another. These beliefs seem to be a long time ago. Or are they?

As mentioned the root of money takes us back to the Roman goddess Juno Moneta, who has helped us reflect on our relationship with money. As the protector of funds Moneta came to be associated with Juno through the following legend. When the Roman army was faltering, out of resources and demoralized, they prayed to Juno for guidance. The goddess advised them that if their cause was just and they fought for what they believed in, then money would be forthcoming. With a reinvigorated spirit the soldiers continued their battle and money and resources arrived from Rome. From this point forward money was minted in the temple of Juno Moneta as a reminder that when there was genuine need and realistic values, then money would follow. From the earliest times money has been associated with the divine, a symbol of the goddess' fortune.

Moneta was also the Latin name for Mnemosyne, the goddess of Memory and the mother of the Muses. Moneta was also said to remind us, at times warn us, of our relationship with money. Therefore, Moneta re-minds us that money is not just a literal matter but connected to the emotional and soulful realm of human experience, the sphere where astrology can be so revealing. Embedded in your Horoscope is an instinctual approach to your values and money. Understanding your own astrological relationship to money can help you be more aware of personal values and your unique approach to money matters. In turn this then helps you learn how to make the most of the money you earn and maximise your prosperity.
