Be Patience!

Please be patience, we have no control over international postal services!

Life is changing at a rapid pace, there's no denying that! And policies and rules are also changing almost daily with no notice. Countries accept or refuse packages with no rhyme nor reason; some things can be shipped via regular post but refused by courier post. With that in mind, we reserve the right to ship some items via regular post and other items via courier post, even if you have requested and paid for full courier post.
