

Support as a Service

Providing technical support for the social sector, by the social sector.

We're not just an IT support provider. We are a certified B Corp committed to delivering reliable, accessible, and highly subsidised technology support solutions tailored specifically for social enterprises, charities, and community groups.

Who We Are

TechForGood is a tech and IT Support supplier on a mission to turn E-commerce into B-commerce. We are committed to providing the best quality tech products and services whilst donating 2% of our revenue directly to key causes that support the United Nations's 17 sustainable development goals.

Why Choose TechForGood?

Reliability:

We offer flexible service plans with different support hours to take care of your Microsoft 365 issues at a time that suits you.

Affordability:

We understand the budget limitations of social sector organisations. That's why we offer highly subsidised tech support that promises excellent value whilst alleviating the financial strain of maintaining an internal IT manager.

Accessibility:

Our user-friendly self-service portal allows quick and easy access to lodge a ticket, comment on existing tickets, or explore our extensive library of helpful articles. You can also call for quick over-the-phone support with our friendly team in your preferred language.

Scalability:

As your organisation grows, so do your IT needs. Our services are designed to scale with you, ensuring you have the IT support you need at every stage of your organisation's journey.

Social Impact:

By partnering with us, you're joining a movement defined by the highest standards in social and environmental performance, accountability, and transparency.

Our Commitment

We're not just an IT support provider. We are a certified B Corp committed to delivering reliable, accessible, and highly subsidised technology support solutions tailored specifically for social enterprises, charities, and community groups.

We commit to providing cost-effective, accessible, and efficient IT Support that aligns with our values as a B Corp. With TechForGood, we support you whilst investing in the world.
