hose who prefer to explore the ocean while dry should check out boats equipped with a glass bottom to obtain an insight into the amazing world underwater. Through the embedded glass bottom of the boat, you can observe what is happening in the water below your feet. An experienced captain will guide and control the glass boat since they are familiar with the area and know where you can find interesting marine life.

The duration of the glass bottom boat excursion with snorkeling from Diani Beach is about 3 hours during which you can explore the magical underworld from the comfort of the glass bottom boat.

Pick-up times from your hotel depend on the tide whether it is high or low tide. The glass boat tours are mostly done during low tides to be able to explore the sandbank (the sandbank is popularly known as Robinson Island) which pops up during low tides.

Snorkeling can be done for swimmers but if you choose to stay on the boat or laze on the sand bank this is also perfectly fine.

to the water based kites and related

Once you're hooked into the kite through the harness it's time to fully experience the rush of kite flying.

Being able to understand and react to the kite's pull is the next successive step. You will learn how to steer and control hooked in, hover and stabilize the kite around the wind window and handle the kites lift using the control bar. We will also examine the re-launch techniques required to get the kite back up in the sky when it crashes.

Ideally towards the end of the first session we generally expect to be able to get most beginners to a point where they are semi-independent with the kite and starting to think about exploring the power zone and using the kites lift to body drag through the surf.

Our 3 hour Discovery course is ideal for anybody intrigued by the sport and looking to get an idea of what it is all about, without having to fully commit to a full course. No prior experience with either kite flying or any water based activity is necessary as this course caters for complete beginners.
