

Showerbuddy Traveller Community Bucketlist items

Most of us love to travel and see the world. And we firmly believe that a mobility impairment should not prevent you from experiencing travel. If you're looking for some inspiration on what to see and do, check out the destinations below.

Great Barrier Reef

AUSTRALIA

Beautiful bright blue water, marine life and incredible weather. And you can find accessible experiences here too.

Wildlife Safari

AFRICA

There's nothing quite like being out in nature with some of the world's most incredible mammals. Simply research accessible safaris online and you'll find multiple options that take care of everything from transfers to transport.

Ocean Cruise

THE MEDITERRANEAN SEA

See some incredible island towns, beautiful sights and of course relaxing on the sea. Cruise ships operate anywhere though, so pick a part of the world you want to see and find a cruise operator - all good cruise lines will provide excellent wheelchair support, as many of their customers require this.

Bungy Jumping

QUEENSTOWN, NEW ZEALAND

It may sound surprising but in our experience tourist operators of activities like bungy are dedicated to finding ways for more groups of people to experience what they have to offer. A bungy jump can be set up for an elderly person, and may even be able to accommodate someone who uses a wheelchair.

Snowmobiling

ANYWHERE THERE'S SNOW!

Do you enjoy colder temperatures and the picturesque landscapes of snow covered mountains? There are plenty of opportunities to get on the ice in a safe and enjoyable way for a mobility impaired person. One of the more exhilarating adventures is taking a snowmobile through the icy terrain.

Big Ben

LONDON, UK

A highly accessible city, London has good transport options and no shortage of incredible landmarks from the famous clock tower to the Thames river.

Eiffel Tower

PARIS, FRANCE

Speaking of iconic structures, the Eiffel tower is considered one of the 7 wonders of the world, with its unmistakable shape and imposing scale.

The Capitol Building

WASHINGTON DC, USA

A building you've definitely seen on TV before, and one of USA's most iconic structures. Washing DC is known for being highly accessible and flat so it's a perfect destination for someone in a wheelchair.

The Las Vegas Strip

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, USA

If you're a fan of sin city and all it has to offer, good news - Las Vegas is flat and very wheelchair accessible.

Skiing & Sledding

It's not just motorised fun you can have on the snow - companies and tourist operators are finding more ways to bring the joys of snow sports to those without full mobility, from modified skis to safe, reinforced sleds.

Read more about disabled travel in our dedicated guides

You can learn more about travelling with a disability, including holiday ideas, equipment and support in our full disabled travel guide.