Thank you for your interest in our products. In order to complete the processing of any homeschool customer orders by you, Savvas requires certain additional information and legal representations from you, which you can provide to us by completing this homeschooler affidavit. We require a legally binding homeschooler affidavit prior to your order being released. We apologize if this delays processing of your order. As a homeschool educator we are sure you appreciate that Savvas must take all necessary steps to prevent our teachers' editions, solutions manuals and testing materials (Teacher Only Materials) from being made indiscriminately available. You should be aware that the promises you make below are legally binding and of the utmost importance to Savvas's and your own educational mission.

You may email this completed form back to us at: K12customerservice@savvas.com or fax toll free at: 201-750-4666. For questions regarding your order, you may contact Customer Service at: 1-800-848-9500.

Sincerely,

Savvas Customer Service
