

Ann Lee (1736 – 1784)

Grace Dahm (1874 – 1958)
and Mary Dahm (1885 – 1965)

Polly Reed (1818 – 1881)

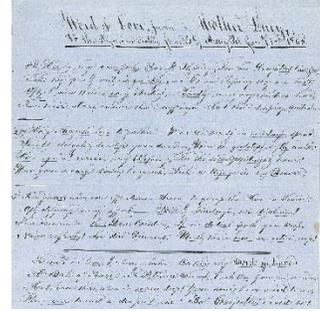

Cecelia DeVere (1836 – 1912)

Anna Delcheff (1888 – left 1928)

Amy Reed (1819 – 1908)

Dolly Sexton (1776 – 1884)

Ellen "Helen" Park (1884 – 1956)

Rebecca Jackson (1795 – 1871)

Lillian Barlow (1876 – 1942)

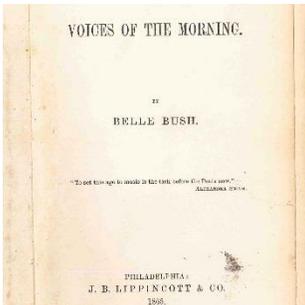

Emma B. King (1873 – 1966)

Jennie Wells (1878 – 1956)

Belle Bush (1829 – 1914)

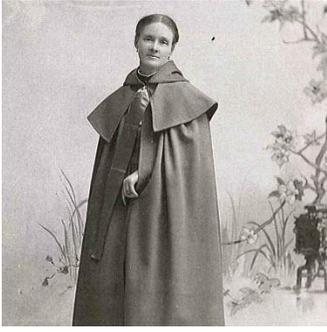

Catherine Allen (1852 – 1922)

Cora Helena Sarle (1867 – 1956)

Emma Jane Neale (1847 – 1943)

Jane Knight (1804 – 1880)

Anna White (1831 – 1910)

Margaret Egleston (1843 – 1925)

Lucy Wright (1760 – 1821)

Carrie Wade (1872 – 1924)

SHAKER MUSEUM | MOUNT LEBANON

Shaker Museum | Mount Lebanon, located in New Lebanon and Old Chatham, Columbia County, New York, is dedicated to engaging and inspiring local, national, and global audiences by telling the story of the American Shakers. The museum's collection of over 56,000 Shaker items is the most comprehensive collection of its kind in the world. The Museum also stewards the North Family historic site at Mount Lebanon Shaker Village. The museum is open seasonally at the site from June to October, and offers programs year-round.

The Museum was founded in 1950 by John S. Williams, Sr. on his farm in Old Chatham, New York. Beginning in the 1930s, Williams traveled extensively to then-active Shaker communities and, often with help from the Shakers, purchased and was given fine examples of their arts, industries, domestic life, and spiritual artifacts. His approach was that of an anthropologist documenting the decline of a culture. Today the Museum's object and library collection, numbering over 56,000 items, is considered the most comprehensive Shaker collection and is a prime resource for scholars and curators. The Museum is accredited by the American Association of Museums since 1972.

In 2004, the Museum became the owner and steward of the North Family site at Mount Lebanon Shaker Village, consisting of 11 remaining Shaker buildings on 91 acres, part of the Mount Lebanon Shaker Society National Historic Landmark district. The Museum's efforts are underway to restore the site and relocate there. Toward that end, the facility in Old Chatham closed to regular visitors in 2009, and since 2011 the Museum has offered seasonal guided tours, programs and exhibitions at the North Family, Mount Lebanon and the surrounding area.