2024

Bakus Cellars is an importer and distributor of wines that was created in 2020 in Hong Kong. Our founder comes from the 3rd generation of a winemaker family based in South of France. Passionate by wines, he decided to create Bakus Cellars to connect Hong Kong customers to more authentic & intimist wineries & vineyards around the world.

High quality, simplicity, and reasonable prices are our 3 motivations.

Why Bakus? Our name is a nod to Bacchus, the Roman God of Wines.

Since we like to make things simple & easy, we just dropped a few letters!

Quality at a reasonable price

We directly source our wines from local wineries to ensure the best value for money to our customers. From the winery to your table.

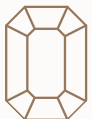

Cautious logistics

From the wineries to our warehouse & delivery, all our logistics are temperature controlled to preserve the quality of the products.

Easy process

The lack of space and MOQs can sometimes be challenging. We deliver from 1 bottle & delivery is free starting from 18 bottles. Orders can be made by mixed units depending on your needs or by whole cartons. Simple.

Diversity

Our product portfolio include wines from the most famous & prestigious French wine regions. We constantly seek for new hidden gems to add to our catalogue, with the aim of always offering more choices to our customers.

Orders can be placed directly by:

- Email: sales@bakuscellars.hk or orders@bakuscellars.hk

Domaine Canta Rainette

By the Castellino family

DOMAINE DE
CANTA RAINETTE

Nestled near Draguignan, Domaine de Canta Rainette graces the village of La Motte en Provence with its vineyards set against the picturesque Mottoise hill and the Esclans valley. This tranquil estate, known for its historical significance as the first liberated village in 1944, offers a unique view of the Rocher de Roquebrune, providing a serene escape for both hikers and wine enthusiasts.

Owned by the Castellino family since 1958, the Domaine took a transformative turn in 1990 when Edouard and Denise Castellino, along with their sons, established their own winery. Tradition blends seamlessly with their innovative approach.

Positioned in the heart of the Côtes de Provence, the Domaine benefits from optimal climatic conditions and clay-limestone soil. Night harvesting, a thermoregulated stainless steel cellar, and meticulous vinification contribute to the creation of exceptional wines. Recognized at the Concours Général Agricole de Paris, the estate's commitment to authenticity and quality is reflected in each bottle.

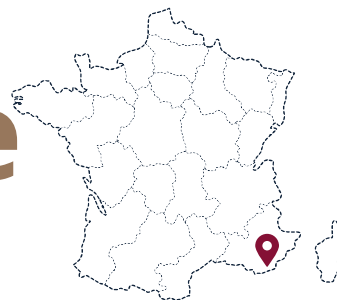

Canta Rainette embraces innovation by experimenting with new grape varieties and winemaking methods. Since 2018, the estate produces its own Crémant Provençal, reflecting a commitment to authenticity. Environmental consciousness is evident through sustainable practices, reduced phytosanitary product usage, and a focus on mechanical work. This delicate balance defines Domaine de Canta Rainette's unique Provençal identity.

CLOS CULOMBU

By the Suzzoni family

Clos Culombu, a renowned Corsican winery, embodies the Suzzoni family's unwavering passion and commitment. The journey began with Paul, who, with his father Antoine, planted their first Niellucciu vines in 1973. In 1989, Etienne took over and expanded the vineyard to 64 hectares. Nestled in the "Trà mare è monti" landscape, Clos Culombu benefits from Corsica's unique microclimate.

They cultivate 19 grape varieties, emphasizing indigenous Corsican grapes. Niellucciu and Sciaccarellu dominate red and rosé wines, while Vermentinu leads white wines. They also work with the CRVI to reintroduce forgotten grape varieties.

Clos Culombu embraced organic and biodynamic practices since 2010, earning ECOCERT organic certification in 2013 and DEMETER biodynamic certification in 2018. Their holistic approach underscores a commitment to quality, sustainability, and innovation.

In essence, Clos Culombu is a family's enduring love affair with Corsican wine, blending tradition with innovation, cherishing their terroir, and championing responsible practices. Their philosophy: stay humble, embrace diversity, and strive for excellence.

Mas Des Capitelles

By the Laugé family

Mas des Capitelles

Mas des Capitelles, situated in AOP Faugères, covers 24 hectares and predominantly cultivates Southern grape varieties, including Carignan, Mourvèdre, Grenache, Syrah, and Cinsault. Their vineyard benefits from a unique terroir characterized by a southern exposure, dry climate, 250m altitude, slightly acidic soils, and protection from northern winds.

The domain is dedicated to organic and biodynamic practices, emphasizing sustainability and minimal intervention in winemaking. Old Carignan and Mourvèdre vines contribute to wines of exceptional quality and aging potential, with natural temperatures maintained during vinification and minimal sulfites used during aging.

Selective manual harvesting with low yields (20-30 hl/ha) and traditional vinification result in wines with remarkable aging potential, exemplified in cuvées like Vieilles Vignes, Loris, and Collection. The vineyard's foundation lies in Carignan, known for producing powerful wines expressing their terroir, while Mourvèdre adds character with notes of leather, pepper, and remarkable aging potential.

Mas des Capitelles is deeply committed to sustainability, achieving organic certification in 2011 and combining organic farming practices with biodynamics to enhance soil microbial life and prevent fungal diseases. Rooted in a family tradition for generations, the estate embodies an artisanal, family-driven, and quality-focused winemaking philosophy that carries the journey from vine to bottle.

Domaine La Traversée

By the Crisfield family

La Traversée is the realization of Gavin Crisfield's dream, an Irish sommelier and winemaker, who settled in the Terroirs de Larzac in 2009. His 4.5-hectare vineyard features various soil types, including schist, clay-limestone, sandstone, and basalt, allowing him to create a diverse range of red wines. The flagship wine, a blend of Syrah, Grenache, Carignan, and Cinsault, showcases exceptional elegance and restrained power. The estate focuses on both grape variety and geological diversity.

The vineyard's unique terroirs—represented by Cinsault, Carignan, Grenache, and Syrah—cultivated organically, play a vital role in achieving harmony and elegance in the wines. Gavin vinifies each grape variety separately, using egg-shaped concrete vats and oval French oak foudres. This distinctive approach captures the region's purity, complexity, and unique character.

La Traversée, a benchmark in the sector, takes full advantage of the distinctive soils that underline its wines' quality. Gavin's expertise, tasting pleasure, and extended finish have earned this emerging estate its first star—a well-deserved accolade.

Savor La Traversée's joyful and zesty Cinsault, expresses the freshness of the 2021 vintage. The Terrasses du Larzac is an outstanding, robust wine with fine structure, silky tannins, and an enticing bouquet of floral, spicy, and aniseed notes, providing captivating complexity and remarkable length.

Nestled within Cassagnes in the Agly Valley, Domaine Modat's vineyards grace an elevated plateau, ranging from 300 to 400 meters in altitude. Quentin Modat embarked on a journey to produce top-tier wines, starting with the debut vintage in 2007. The unique high-altitude terroir, predominantly composed of gneiss soils (granitic sand overlaying fractured granitic bedrock), provides the ideal conditions for crafting wines celebrated for their finesse, freshness, and elegance.

With a commitment to organic farming since 2007, Domaine Modat obtained official certification in March 2014. Quentin Modat's quest for excellence led to the cultivation of approximately ten hectares using biodynamic practices starting in 2012, with the entire vineyard transitioning to biodynamics in 2015. Vinification at Domaine Modat adheres to a philosophy of minimal intervention, emphasizing gentle extraction, utilization of native yeasts, and minimizing the application of sulfur-based inputs whenever possible.

Domaine Arbeau, located in Labastide-Saint-Pierre, strikes a balance between tradition and modernity. The Arbeau family's agricultural journey began in 1878, with the vine soon becoming the primary focus. Fronton emerged as the core of their viticultural endeavors, with Pierre Arbeau establishing a distillery in the early 20th century alongside nurturing their vineyard heritage. In 1920, they acquired Château Coutinel on the boulbène terroir.

Jean-Claude Arbeau continued the legacy, elevating their wines to respected crus and expanding their global reach. Today, Anne and Géraud Arbeau lead the estate, preserving traditions while embracing modernity.

Domaine Arbeau's distinctive feature is their unwavering commitment to organic farming, reflecting their environmental concern and dedication to sustainability. They prioritize simplicity in winemaking, focusing on the essence of the grapes, resulting in wines that express the terroir and grape varieties.

Their diverse wine range includes Négrette of Fronton, Bordeaux's Cabernets and Merlots, Rhône's Syrah, and lesser-known varieties like Négrette and Brauacol, offering something for every palate. Domaine Arbeau represents a legacy where tradition and innovation harmonize, producing exceptional wines with a story of craftsmanship and terroir.

Château Haut-Peyrat, a historic 16th-century vineyard, underwent a transformative shift towards quality and ecological consciousness in 2014 under the ownership of Isabelle and Didier Gil. Renovations revitalized the chateau and its surroundings, showcasing a terroir blessed with diverse soils and ideal hillside exposure. The vineyard, featuring 70% Merlot, 15% Cabernet Franc, 14% Cabernet Sauvignon, and a touch of Malbec, uniquely combines right and left bank terroirs, resulting in wines with Bordeaux-like complexity.

With a vine density of 5200 vines per hectare and an average vine age of 35 years, Château Haut-Peyrat places a premium on sustainable viticulture. The estate holds the highest "Haute Valeur Environnementale" certification, employing ecological practices like manual vineyard work and embracing biodiversity through animals like sheep, horses, and beehives. The commitment extends to eco-friendly energy sources, rainwater harvesting, and water treatment, reflecting a holistic approach to environmental stewardship.

Château Haut-Peyrat's wines embody the estate's character, terroir, and ecological values in every bottle, offering a harmonious blend of tradition and innovation.

Nestled in the Sancerre hills of Veaugues, Domaine des Brosses, founded in 1970, entered a new era in 2007 under Nicolas Girard's stewardship. Operating across 18 hectares of AOC Sancerre, Menetou Salon, and Quincy, the estate combines tradition and modernity, crafting over 100,000 bottles annually through traditional and reasoned viticulture.

Sancerre's Veaugues and Montigny communes reveal "caillottes" clay-limestone soil and a limestone subsoil, defining its terroir. Ten hectares of Sauvignon and two hectares of Pinot Noir breathe life into the distinct character of the appellation. Meanwhile, Menetou-Salon, in Morogues and Humbligny, boasts three hectares of Sauvignon and one hectare of Pinot Noir in a clayey "terre blanche" soil, adding complexity to Domaine des Brosses' portfolio.

Domaine des Brosses prides itself on hands-on craftsmanship, managing every aspect of winemaking on-site. From the precise care of vines to cellar intricacies, their dedicated team ensures that each of the 100,000-plus bottles annually produced is a true embodiment of the estate's terroir and the passion embedded in every drop.

Champagne Monmarthe, a family vineyard spanning 15 hectares, is predominantly located in Ludes, a premier cru village at the heart of Montagne de Reims, along the Champagne tourist route. An additional two hectares lie in the premier cru village of Taissy. The vineyard comprises 22 parcels, with 35% allocated to Pinot Noir, 35% to Chardonnay, and 30% to Meunier, reflecting a carefully balanced distribution.

This cherished vineyard holds a significant heritage for the Monmarthe family, boasting seven generations dedicated to preserving the exceptional terroir. Affiliated with the esteemed Independent Winegrowers community, Champagne Monmarthe received the High Environmental Value (HVE) certificate for its entire vineyard on April 20, 2014. In 2021, the commitment to environmental stewardship continued with the Sustainable Viticulture in Champagne certification.

Harvesting at Champagne Monmarthe involves a dedicated team of forty individuals ensuring efficiency and speed in transporting the finest grape clusters—Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, and Pinot Meunier—to the press in a warm, familial atmosphere. The delicate process of extracting grape juice requires expertise, combining different crus, vintages, grape varieties, and traditions to create a unique and distinctive style, reflecting the winemaker's talent and art. Domaine Aimé Stentz

By the Stentz family

Domaine Aimé Stentz, nestled in Wettolsheim, Alsace, passionately tends to its 14-hectare family vineyard using organic farming practices, a commitment upheld through five generations. The estate emphasizes the profound influence of terroir, recognizing the significance of soil composition, subsoil, exposure, microclimate, and the vintner's approach in distinguishing wines that authentically reflect their terroir.

The Alsace vineyard benefits from remarkable geological diversity, sheltered by the Vosges Mountains, with a semi-continental climate featuring warm and dry summers and autumns and some of the lowest rainfall levels in France. Spanning seven communes and comprising around 60 parcels across 14 hectares, the estate's mosaic of highly varied soils allows for the careful selection of terroir tailored to each grape variety. This meticulous matching process brings forth the fruit's primary aromas and unveils the more mineral and intricate terroir-related notes.

Domaine Aimé Stentz's commitment to organic farming is evident in their harmonious approach to winemaking, resulting in wines that mirror both the grape and the unique terroir. Inviting exploration through a lens of tradition, authenticity, and environmental respect, the estate's wines tell a story of generations dedicated to nurturing the land and capturing the essence of their terroir. With distinct geological diversity, a semi-continental climate, and meticulous vintner craftsmanship, Domaine Aimé Stentz produces wines emblematic of their origins.

Domaine Romanin

By the Vervier family

BURGUNDY

Domaine ROMANIN, based in Fuissé, Mâconnais, embodies five generations of winemaking, with Denis VERVIER taking charge in 1998 after graduating from the Macon-Davayé viticultural school. Crafting award-winning Burgundy wines, Denis prioritizes meticulous grape ripeness across the estate's 12 hectares of vineyards managed sustainably. The Chardonnay-dominant Pouilly-Fuissé thrives in clay-limestone soil with "Chailles" white stones.

The vineyards, exposed to South/Southeast sunlight, ensure complete grape ripening, with vines aged 30 to 70 years. Sustainable practices, including phytosanitary methods and organic fertilizers, maintain terroir authenticity, and harvesting occurs only at full grape ripeness.

Grapes, pressed immediately upon arrival, settle in tanks for 12 to 24 hours. Vinification unfolds in stainless steel tanks or 2 to 6-year-old oak barrels for 6 to 12 months, chosen based on AOC and grape richness. Natural malolactic fermentation during aging enhances aroma and structure.

Winter sees the wine resting on lees, and after a light filtration, bottling takes place between spring and the upcoming harvest, preserving the aromatic distinctiveness. Under Denis VERVIER's leadership, Domaine ROMANIN harmonizes heritage, meticulous craftsmanship, and sustainability, resulting in expressive and award-winning Burgundy wines.

Jean-François and Pierre-Louis Bersan uphold a five-century family legacy, emphasizing unwavering respect for their 20-hectare vineyard's exceptional terroirs. The estate, comprising 13 hectares of whites and 7 hectares of reds, integrates modern viticultural techniques while undergoing a transition toward organic viticulture, showcasing a firm commitment to environmental stewardship.

Their cellar, a pinnacle of precision and hygiene, features stainless steel tanks for fermentation and oak barrels for aging. Nestled within vaulted cellars from the 11th and 12th centuries, the wines mature with grace and character, earning global appreciation. With an annual production of around 120,000 bottles, nearly half are distributed internationally. Despite this, the estate remains devoted to personally hosting visitors and connoisseurs in their "caveau."

Domaine Bersan's 20 hectares of vineyards display a rich tapestry of Burgundian varietals, including Aligoté, Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, and Pinot Noir, across nearly ten distinct Burgundian appellations. Situated in Saint-Bris Le Vineux, the vineyards in the Yonne Valley boast an ancient subsoil blending clay, limestone, Portlandian, and Kimmeridgian strata. With a viticultural history spanning centuries, the vine remains central to the community's culture and prosperity, and the wines of Domaine Bersan artfully capture the essence of Burgundy's rich winemaking heritage by marrying tradition and innovation.

Clos Ravier, a renowned Savoie winery, is celebrated for crafting exceptional white wines that authentically reflect the region's terroir. Their diverse portfolio includes Jacquère, Roussanne, and Altesse wines, blending traditional and innovative techniques to express Savoie's character.

Nestled in the Cluse de Chambéry, their vineyards benefit from a picturesque setting between the Chartreuse Massif and the Bauges Massif, with clay-limestone scree soils revealing a unique geological history.

Notably, Chignin Bergeron thrives with a southern to southeastern exposure and shelter from encircling mountains, producing remarkable white wines. Apremont's vineyards, with steep terrain and limestone-rich soils, offer an ideal environment for Jacquère, known for its mineral and fresh characteristics.

Surrounding Lake Saint-André, the Altesse grape enjoys ample sunlight and a scree terroir, while the exclusive Jacquère grape of Apremont produces wines with fruity and mineral notes.

The legacy of Clos Ravier spans generations, with Philippe, a trailblazing winemaker since 1978, and his son Sylvain, who injected youthful dynamism into the estate in 2008, shaping wines that mirror his vision of generosity and finesse.

Beaujolais

Domaine des Chers

By the Briday family

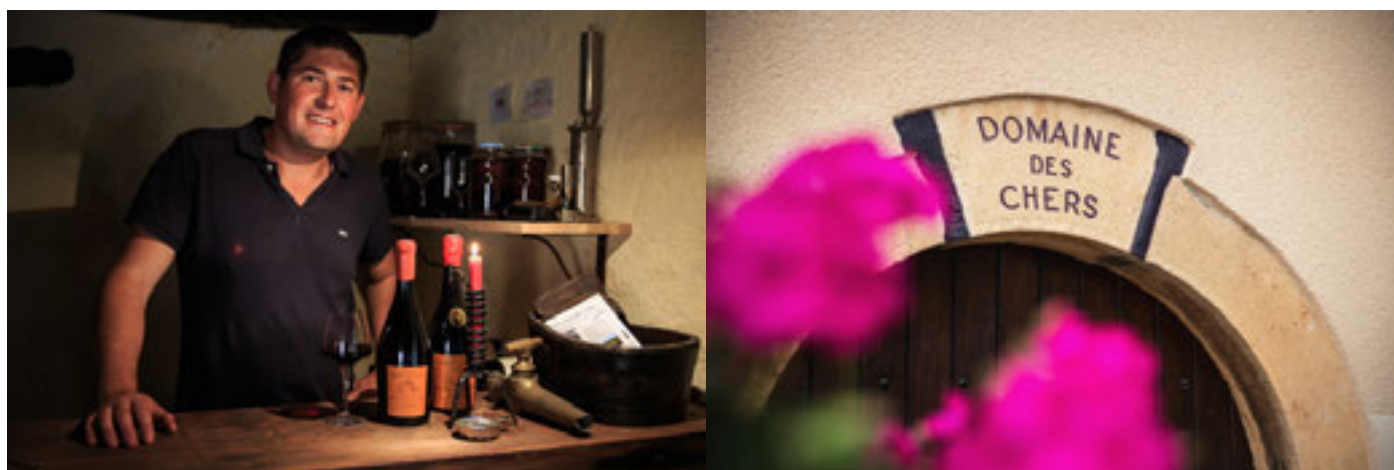

BEAUJOLAIS

Established in 1956 by Henri Briday, Le Domaine des Chers has evolved through generations. The new "les vieilles vignes" range showcases nearly 100-year-old vines, resulting in wines of exceptional concentration. Arnaud, the grandson, refines Gamay wines while preserving the purity of the fruit.

With 4 hectares in Juliéнас, 1.5 hectares in Moulin à Vent, and 2 hectares in Saint-Amour, the estate spans prime south-facing plots along the Beaujolais wine route. Sustainable farming practices, manual harvesting, and adherence to the independent winemaker charter highlight the commitment to environmental respect.

Arnaud, joining the family domain in 2009, brings a personal touch to the legacy rooted in Beaujolais for three generations. His studies, viticultural experiences, and commitment to authenticity shape the estate's goal: offer the best of Beaujolais, unveil terroir, enhance farming practices, and ensure consistent quality.

Crafting high-quality red wines involves perfect grapes, precise ripening, and meticulous processes. Manual harvesting, whole-cluster maceration, controlled temperatures, and 6 to 9 months of aging in tanks or barrels contribute to distinctive characteristics in each cuvée.

Domaine Chaboud-Cellier

By the Chaboud-Cellier family

In the heart of Saint-Péray, Domaine Chaboud-Cellier's legacy began in 1798 with Louis-Alexandre Faure, and it's marked by moments of excellence, like crafting the first Saint-Péray sparkling wine in 1826, blending tradition, expertise, and innovation.

In 2020, a fortuitous meeting between Stéphan Chaboud, the sixth-generation steward, and passionate oenologist Charlène Cellier reshaped the estate's future. United by a shared vision, Stéphan, responsible for vineyard management, and Charlène, managing oenology and commercial aspects, harmonized their unique talents, rooted in viticulture and oenological knowledge.

Domaine Chaboud-Cellier's commitment to excellence starts in their vineyards with a sustainable and reasoned approach, avoiding insecticides and fungicides. Manual harvests with on-the-vine sorting ensure uncompromising quality. They adhere to traditional winemaking practices to preserve their terroir's character.

In essence, Domaine Chaboud-Cellier encapsulates a rich history, a dynamic partnership, and a commitment to crafting exceptional wines that express Saint-Péray's terroir. Explore their selection to discover the essence of the domaine.

Vineyard Art-Mas

By the Combe family

Domaine Art Mas, located in Visan, Vaucluse, stands out in the Côtes du Rhône Villages Visan appellation with its 30 hectares of vineyards, abundant sunlight, and commitment to low yields, resulting in expressive, high-quality wines. Xavier Combe, the passionate owner, carries forward a legacy of deep connection to the land and meticulous vineyard management, consistently producing exceptional wines.

The name "Art Mas" draws inspiration from the Provençal term "harmas," symbolizing a wild garden where nature regains its balance, creating a sanctuary for indigenous species and re-establishing long-lost flora and fauna. Art Mas is dedicated to environmental stewardship, transitioning to biodynamic practices, and respecting natural cycles.

Xavier Combe's winemaking journey began at the age of 15 when he founded Vignoble Art Mas in 2009, driven by pride in the exceptional terroir of the region. He continually experiments with techniques to enhance wine depth and character.

Art Mas embodies a harmonious blend of tradition and innovation, crafting wines that reflect the unique terroir of Côtes du Rhône Villages Visan, demonstrating their unwavering commitment to excellence.

Domaine des Chanssaud

By the Jaume family

Domaine des Chanssaud, a family-owned vineyard since 1826, managed by Patrick Jaume since 1985, spans 46 hectares. The terroir, composed of clay, sand, and quartz-rich soil, enables optimal grape maturity. Committed to eco-friendly practices, they transitioned to organic farming in 2012 and have a modern cellar for quality vinification. A third of their Châteauneuf du Pape red wine undergoes oak barrel aging.

The estate, passed down through generations, comprises 46 hectares, 20 in Châteauneuf appellation and 26 in Côtes du Rhône. The terroir features clay, sand, and quartz pebbles from the Rhône's alluvial deposits, maintaining stable ambient temperatures for grape maturity. They've cultivated the vineyard in harmony with the environment, transitioning to organic farming in 2012.

Their modern cellar, established in 1995, ensures optimal vinification conditions, with a capacity of 2500 hectoliters for winemaking and 700 hectoliters for storage. The vineyard includes 14 hectares of Châteauneuf du Pape and 21 hectares of Côtes du Rhône, showcasing prominent grape varieties.

The former cellar has been transformed into an aging cellar and a welcoming tasting space, blending tradition and innovation. One-third of Châteauneuf du Pape red wine undergoes one year of oak barrel aging for quality control. The bottled wines are stored in a climate-controlled room until they mature.

Domaine Chamfort

By the Perdigao family

Domaine Chamfort, nestled at the base of the Dentelles de Montmirail, has embraced organic viticulture since 2018 under owner Vasco Perdigao. The vineyards in Vacqueyras feature ancient soils with a mosaic of pebbles and red stones, hosting venerable vines yielding highly concentrated grapes.

In 2014, they expanded to Séguret, home to over half a century-old vines and a remarkable terroir with limestone scree, quartz veins, and rich red soils. Sablet, on the northern border of Gigondas, benefits from south-facing vineyards and cooling mountain influences, with sandy soils and safres blending to enhance their Côtes-du-Rhône villages Sablet wines.

Rasteau, perched at an altitude of about 300 meters, enjoys an ideal exposure, with vineyards showcasing a harmonious mix of pebbles and clay soils. At Domaine Chamfort, their unwavering commitment to organic viticulture and respect for terroir result in a portfolio of exceptional quality wines, each expressing the unique character of its vineyard site.
