It's Time To Start Tomatoes!

If you love delicious tomatoes, now through mid-April is the time to start your own plants from seed – peppers and eggplants, too! It's the only way to enjoy the very best tasting and old-fashioned heirloom varieties not usually available in nurseries as plants.

Generally, the time to start your seeds indoors is about 6 to 8 weeks before the last expected spring frost date in your area. Plant seedlings outdoors about 2 weeks after that date or when temperatures stay in the mid-50 degree range both day and night.
