Renee's Garden

Your Garden To Table Seed Company

Gardening for a Second Season

Extend your harvest into fall by planting second crops of cool season vegetables, such as peas, greens, lettuce, carrots, Napa and regular cabbage, kale, kohlrabi, Asian vegetables, radishes, spinach, and turnips. Planting these veggies in late summer/early fall will yield harvests long after your summer crops are finished. The longer the frost-free season in your area, the greater the variety of fall crops you'll be able to grow. Read More

Vegetables

Beets
Broccoli
Broccoli Raab
Cabbage
Carrots
Chard
Fennel, Bulbing
Kale
Kohlrabi

Leeks

Vegetables

Lettuce
Mâche
Mustards
Pak Choi
Peas
Radishes
Salad Greens
Scallions
Spinach
Stir Fry Greens
Turnips

Herbs

Arugula
Chervil
Chives
Cilantro
Dill
Garlic Chives
Parsley
Watercress

OUR FAVORITE KITCHEN COMPOST PAIL

At last, an attractive and really functional kitchen compost pail. The perfect size to sit on the kitchen counter to collect kitchen scraps that are on their way to the composter. Best of all, the lid has a clear rubber ring that seals completely to keep odors inside! Available in Oatmeal, Stainless Steel, or Green finish. Buy Now

HOME COMPOSTING GUIDE / D/

No matter your soil type, or your choice of crops, building a compost pile will enhance your garden soil, resulting in stronger and healthier plants. Composting is really quite simple and utterly foolproof! Download the PDF

