New Release by Indy Fontaine captivates Latin music audiences.

“Capricho de Dos” (Whim of Two), inspired by Indy Fontaine’s own experiences, takes the listener to a retrospective viewpoint of a previous failed relationship looking thru the lens of having since found true love — a tale as old as time with which most can relate.

The song is everything you would expect from a well produced Latin Pop Rock Ballad with powerful, clear, and meaningful lyrics complimented by the melodic arrangements. Fontaine’s prowess of the flute introduces and bridges the song with a sweet and passionate melody that captivates the audience and encompasses the theme of the song while still leaving the ears wanting more. The song’s melody intensifies as the perfect compliment to the lyrical journey that builds throughout the story.

“Capricho de Dos” was written, recorded, and produced by Fontaine in her studio, Fontaine Records, and the music video which was simultaneously released on YouTube is a one-shot studio walk-thru music video that portrays that process start to finish.

Fontaine is a singer-songwriter, producer and multi-instrumentalist who in recent years moved from Havana, Cuba to the Miami area. This is Fontaine’s first release in Spanish and the 2nd installment of 11 songs to be released in the 1st half of 2024. It is available now for streaming or download on all platforms.

Michael Fahey was the sound engineer and co-producer, and the song was mastered by Pete Lyman of Infrasonic Sound.
