BEHIND THE BRAND

The Owner and Founder of Sun Potion, Scott Linde developed the company through his own transformational experience with these foods. With a background in Rolfing (Structural Integration), he began to notice profound shifts in his own body and consciousness with the addition of tonic herbs and superfoods to his diet. These shifts transcended the optimum state of well-being he had already sustained in his field of work! Sun Potion's line evolved from Scott's personal motivation to source the highest quality tonic herbs, algae, greens, and mushrooms from around the globe: simply (and perhaps selfishly) because this was what he wanted to put in his body! With the natural tendency to share with others, Scott began to offer the foods to friends and clients, and the company formed in response to the positive shifts in the community's health and organically growing demand for these Transformational Foods.
