SUSTAINABILITY

Look beyond our beautiful packaging and you'll find high-performing, plant-based formulas and products to improve the quality of your health and skin. We grow and produce the hero ingredient ourselves, our extraordinary extra virgin olive oil. We believe there can be no greater quality or transparency than having that direct relationship with plant and process - you'll feel this vitality and potency throughout the collection. We mindfully source our raw ingredients from suppliers with clean practices and of the highest quality all over the world.

We design with foresight, not only considering the experience of applying and using our products but the lifecycle of the packaging components long after they've been enjoyed. If we do our job well, thousands of bottles of Wonder Valley products are sold each year...that's thousands of bottles that will sit on the earth on our behalf. This is not a role we take lightly. We continue to prioritize seeking out the most sustainable components for our packaging, ones that are easily recycled. Our small team spends our free time attending sustainability seminars, researching, and educating ourselves to make the most thoughtful decisions we can for our product designs. We do not see this as a static process, but one that is in constant motion.

PACKAGING COMPONENTS

All olive oil bottles are 100% plastic-free since our first harvest in 2014; made of glass, paper, wood, cork. That plastic-looking anti-tamper wrapper around the top is actually bio-degradable wood pulp.

For our skincare collection, most of the line has minimal plastic. The pumps and reducers are made of plastic until we can find a functional solution that allows for secure storage and proper dispensing.

WHY NOT PLASTIC?

From our research, plastic is really not recyclable. Sturdier plastics allow for up to one cycle of recycling, and can only be downcycled. When using recycled plastics, whether ocean recycled or from a processing facility, they still require to be made of a high percentage of virgin plastic. The field of bioplastics seems exciting and promising, but they require specific processing facilities that many of us do not have access to.

GLASS & ALUMINUM

These are our materials of choice because of their recycling abilities. Glass and aluminum can be upcycled and do not require being melded with virgin materials. There is universal ease of recycling.
