

s.PAGE Message Pager

Versatile

The s.PAGE is one of the latest pagers that we supply and supports many new and exciting functions. This pager impresses users thanks to state-of-the-art functional designs and unique performance features. Secure receipt of messages and loud alerting take centre stage. The pager is extremely robust and very comfortable to wear.

This pager has an impressive alerting volume of up to 95dB(A) within 30cm and is certainly the loudest pager in its class. It is also extremely robust (2-m drop test) and is waterproof (IP67).

Reliable

This pager is extremely reliable receiving messages within seconds. The UK Paging Network use satellite communication to send messages to local transmitters which are picked up by this pager.

Easy To Use

To send a message, callers simply dial your pager number and leave a numeric message (or with the Call Centre Operator if you have the bureau service). Alternatively, messages can either be sent by one of our direct input services or email (which is a chargeable additional service).

Call Charges

Calls to this pager from BT landlines are charged by the length of time you are on the phone. The pence per minute price may also vary depending on the time of day.

Other operators (including mobile networks) may charge different rates.
