

A photograph of an interior space. On the left, there are cream-colored curtains with a vertical pattern of small, repeating motifs in shades of brown and red. A window is visible behind the curtains. In the center, the text 'FIORE FABRIC' is overlaid. On the right, a portion of a gold-framed artwork with a fringed border is visible. In the foreground, a light pink velvet armchair with a curved back and thick, textured gold legs sits on a light-colored rug with a geometric pattern. The background wall is a neutral, light color.

Fiore Fabric

A little know fact about Rosemary... very early on in her career, she played with embroidery on fabric. Now years later, she brings a fun twist on embroidery with Fiore. "Party Favor" colored threads paired with the creamy white background of her classic Alpaca fabric, the hand embroidered pattern is a playful and modern nod to the flowering vines on Italian architecture.
