and the pool area outside. For architectural heft and a sense of history, he gave reception a coffered ceiling, downlit fluted columns, and, behind the three freestanding desks, a faux library of old-school vellum bookbindings. That famous Filicia wit appears in reception's glossy-white antler chandelier as well as the guest rooms' black deer-head motif on throw pillows. And the Extreme Wow suite's Chippendale-esque dining chairs are lacquered University of Georgia red. —Eddie Cohen
