

Avero AB recalls North Basketball Hoop Universal

The North Trampoline Basketball Hoop Universal, article no. NA230020, was sold via web shops at North Trampoline in the period from 01/03/2020 to 05/04/2024.

What is the danger?

The basketball hoop has been incorrectly certified and therefore cannot be considered safe. There is a risk of jumping into the basketball hoop and injuring your head. If textile parts break, you can get stuck and injure yourself or risk strangulation, if the flexible bars break there is a risk of cutting yourself. As the product is not tested according to the correct procedure, there may be additional risks when using it.

What should be done now?

- The product should immediately stop being used and be dismantled from the trampoline.
