DROP-SHIP

Thorsten jewelry offers drop shipping to any customer. Drop shipped packages include a Thorsten brand ring box, warranty information card, and a packing slip. Packing slips do not include any pricing information.

SPEED

Our rings usually ship the same business day. Engravings do not delay your order. Custom engravings and fingerprint engravings will add a few extra days.

WARRANTY

All Thorsten jewelry is made to the highest standards using quality materials and expert craftsmanship and is warranted to be free of defects. Any jewelry that fails to meet our standards of excellence will be replaced under our warranty. If your ring cracks or breaks from accidental damage, it will be replaced under our warranty terms. This policy does not apply to custom rings.

SIZING

Due to the hardness of alternative metals, they cannot be resized like traditional gold or platinum rings. Therefore, if a customer's finger size changes over time, the ring will be replaced with a different size. Thorsten will exchange your ring for a different size as long as your customer owns the ring.

WHAT'S NEW?

Resilient, scratch-resistant and heavyweight. Tungsten is a metal that symbolizes both strength and commitment. Widely regarded as one of the toughest things in nature, tungsten carbide rings have become a very popular choice amongst wedding bands. The Swedish translate tungsten as “heavy stone” and has become one of the strongest alloys used to make jewelry. The combination of nickel and tungsten carbide come together to create an exceptional and enduring wedding band fit for those ready to make a statement.

TUNGSTEN CARBIDE

WHITE TUNGSTEN

Through a special proprietary bonding process, precious metal rhodium from the platinum family combined with tungsten giving it that sleek and classy presence. The durability of white tungsten is unmatched and more scratch-resistant than any other contemporary metal and precious metal wedding band. As a result, white tungsten is the preferred metal choice for grooms seeking an alternative metal wedding band with the bright white radiant look of platinum or white gold.

TUNGSTEN CARBIDE

DINOSAUR BONE INLAYS

Even after 65 million years of extinction, dinosaurs have found their way to still roam the earth. The agatized dinosaur bone used is a fossilized dinosaur bone reintegrated with minerals. The minerals give each dinosaur bone inlay its own unique color and cell structure transforming it into a modern work of art.

TUNGSTEN CARBIDE

CONTEMPORARY INLAYS

Contemporary tungsten wedding bands offer a modern take on traditional wedding rings. Our collection features colorful carbon fiber inlays, natural inlays like deer antler, and other contemporary materials. The combination of durable tungsten and the stylish appeal of these unique and non-traditional materials creates a visually captivating contrast, making them the perfect choice for those who want a little color in their wedding ring. Adding gemstones like diamonds, rubies, and emeralds adds a touch of elegance, making these rings an ideal option for those seeking a blend of modernity with tradition.

TUNGSTEN CARBIDE

BLACK TUNGSTEN

Aggressive. Powerful. Formal. Black Tungsten combines the strength and weight of tungsten carbide rings with a deep, dark exterior. One of the trendiest looks in tungsten wedding bands, black tungsten is obtained by shooting tiny particles of titanium zirconium alloy, which is black in color, at an extremely high velocity so that the particles embed themselves into the surface of the tungsten ring. Draw in the eyes with a bit of mystery and evoke authority with our black tungsten.

CERAMIC

CLASSIC STYLES

From black ceramic rings to wood inlays, colorful patterns and metallic accents, there are hundreds of unique styles to choose from. They are strong and will not warp out of shape after years of wear because of their high melting point. Along with its shiny and sleek exterior, ceramic is hypoallergenic and perfect for anyone with a metal allergy. A fine addition to accent any wardrobe, you will find that ceramic bands are quite an appealing conversation piece.

CONTEMPORARY INLAYS

Wedding bands have evolved, and contemporary ceramic bands are a perfect example of this evolution. These bands do not only add a modern twist to the traditional wedding band but also come with colorful carbon fiber inlays, natural inlays like deer antler, or other colorful modern materials. By combining durable tungsten and the sleek appeal of these unique and non-traditional materials, a visually captivating contrast is created, giving those who want a little color in their wedding ring. Moreover, adding gemstones like diamonds, rubies, and emeralds adds a touch of elegance, making these rings a perfect choice for those seeking a blend of modernity with tradition.

TITANIUM
WOOD INLAYS

Wood inlay titanium rings offer a natural distinction and truly unique way to show your connection with the Earth. Each piece of wood used is one-of-a kind, manifesting an amazing sense of balance through its elegant design. The titanium design offers the same durability as gold, platinum or stainless steel with more comfort due to its lightweight qualities.

DAMASCUS STEEL

Bend but never break. As two different kinds of stainless steel are contorted and intertwined, our Damascus steel rings take shape to create a one-of-a-kind impression. The grooves created in the rings help the colors set and pop. Through the fire and flames, Damascus steel emerges as a distinct choice in rough and rugged wedding bands.
