Join us for an intimate photographic journey and conversation between Dr. Carla Garapedian of the Armenian Film Foundation and renowned photographer Hrair Hawk Khatcherian on his travels to four major Armenian landmarks: the mountainous region of Artsakh, the Holy Bethlehem Church of New Julfa in Isfahan, Iran, the Armenian cemetery in Julfa in the Nakhchivan exclave of Azerbaijan, and the Armenian community in Romania.

Hrair Hawk Khatcherian was born in Lebanon in 1961. He has spent almost three decades presenting exhibitions, conferences, and photographic lectures around the globe. His photographs have appeared in numerous magazines, newspapers, books and publications. Khatcherian has published more than a dozen photography books, including Artsakh: A Photographic Journey (1997), Karabakh: 100 Pictures (2002), Yergir (2005), Armenian Ornamental Art (2010; in collaboration with Armen Kyurkchyan), Yergir 2 (2011), Armenian Ornamental Script (2012), One Church One Nation (2013), 100 (1915-2015), Khatchkar (2017), Armenia: Heaven on Earth (2018), and Artsakh: The Photographer's Eye (2021). His work was also included in the Metropolitan Museum of Art's Armenia! exhibition and book publication among many others.
