Our therapists have selected a synergy of expertise, styles and dermo-cosmetic products adapted to preserve and beautify your skin from the inside and the outside and contribute to your physical and mental well-being.

Our spa therapists rely on the four decades of experience in skincare of the French brand Biologique Recherche, based on unique treatment protocols that are customised to each person's Skin Instant©.

Equally suitable for both men and women, the facials are carried out in 3 basic stages:

The assessment stage - Analysing the specific needs of your skin

The initialisation stage - Preparing and balancing the skin

The treatment stage - Targeting each issue and treating it in depth

At Spa Soleilla, we share Holidermie's vision to help active women stay beautiful and glowing for longer:

By protecting and beautifying - their skin from inside and out.

By contributing to their wellbeing - both physical and emotional.

By enabling them to pay attention to their style - all the way into the bathroom.

A synergy of expertise and style, for holistic beauty. Tried-and-tested efficacy and heightened performance, thanks to the synergy of the active ingredients, nutrients and prebiotics and probiotics of the treatments and dietary supplements.

FACIALS

Our customised treatments

Biologique Recherche strive to study the sense of the skin to understand the messages it sends, so that their skincare protocols can be continually adjusted to each Skin Instant©.

Each skincare protocol is developed on the basis of a prior personalized dermo-cosmetic diagnosis.

Skin diagnosis

The first stage of the "Biologique Recherche Methodology", is a unique diagnosis identifying your Skin Instant©.

The Skin Instant© Lab consists of 5 scientific measurement probes (hydration, insensible water loss, elasticity, pigmentation, sebumetry) connected to a computer running Biologique Recherche's exclusively developed diagnostic and analysis software.

Based on this dermo-cosmetic analysis, Biologique Recherche offers a selection of products and treatments that match your Skin Instant© perfectly.
