SRIHARI KHODAY
CENTRE FOR PERFORMING ARTS
KANAKAPURA ROAD

A space to find the art that resides
within you

A Whirling Dervish is captured in a dynamic pose, spinning on a dark stage. The dancer's white robe is billowing out in a wide, circular shape, creating a sense of motion and energy. The lighting is dramatic, with a strong blue spotlight illuminating the dancer from above, casting a long shadow on the floor. The background is dark, making the dancer the central focus of the image.

Inside you there's an artist you don't know about...

- Rumi

Our world may be a busy one, but
what connects us
all is a deep love for creation.

Before language and words existed - we communicated through art. From the ancient rock art and cave paintings of the Bhimbetka caves, to the intricate sculptures of the Indus Valley Civilization, to the aesthetic carvings of ancient temples, we have had a rich legacy of artistic expression.

The Prestige Srihari Khoday Centre For Performing Arts was born out of the passion to create a space where art finds relevance in every context we may meet it in. India is a country of varied influences, and art in our context takes many forms.

From theatre to music, dance, storytelling, and non-verbal expression, we have a culture of creating works that stand the test of time.

With the Centre For Performing Arts, we invite you to showcase your art, on your terms.

Express yourself in ways old and new

Who is to say that the nature of art has not changed over time? Erstwhile storytelling has now given way to TED talks. To be sure, one isn't better than another, and every form of expression has relevance and meaning. At the Centre, we hope to explore its relevance to you, now and in the future.

Let the ancient secrets reveal themselves through hidden notes in a song, from words left unspoken, from the tireless rhythm of dancing feet, from the brush strokes of master painters.

A space for artistic expression in our very own city

The astute audience of today have developed an appreciation for all forms of artistic expression, and there is no generational divide here.

The much awaited Marzaghi Utsavam of Chennai, for example, provides a platform for artists to showcase their talent and for enthusiasts to experience and appreciate classical Indian arts.

Cut across to the Kochi-Muziris Biennale with its diverse range of contemporary art, including installations, paintings, sculptures, videos, and digital art, taking place across multiple venues.

We believe that the avant-garde audience of Bengaluru, deserve an urban oasis that is curated to bring them forms of art that pique their curiosity, touch their hearts, and make them want to come back for more.

At the Centre For Performing Arts, we have set the stage for precisely this.

Auditorium

The Auditorium is a one-of-a-kind stage for world-class performances á la the Broadway Theatre experience. Considered some of the finest and most popular theatrical productions in the world featuring music, dance, and acting - Broadway shows have ruled the hearts of audiences in Manhattan for several decades. Continuing that tradition, we left no stone unturned to blend the elements of comfort and luxury for our audience.

Here you can connect to the crowd through dramas to comedies, talk shows to classical arts, revivals to contemporary originals. This stage is elaborate for large-scale shows that the audience will not soon forget.

Amphitheatre

Amphitheatres are often rich in history and cultural significance. They add a specific level of meaning and depth to the shows with excellent acoustics and sightlines. Set against the open sky backdrop, creating a special atmosphere, and providing a sense of connection to the natural elements - performing in an amphitheater is a unique and memorable experience for the artist and connoisseur alike.

With the audience often closer to the stage than in a traditional theater, the sense of intimacy and connection between performers and audience members is valuable and rewarding for every artist.
